2018 BIG TEN/ACC CHALLENGE

ESPN in conjunction with the Big Ten Conference and the Atlantic Coast Conference announced the matchups for the 20th-annual ACC/Big Ten Challenge.

For the second straight season and the third time in five years, the Wildcats will take on Georgia Tech. This year's contest will be played Wednesday, Nov. 28 at Welsh-Ryan Arena.

The 'Cats and the Yellow Jackets have split four previous meetings in the Challenge. Georgia Tech snuck past Northwestern, 52-51, this past season in Atlanta. Each team has won one of the two prior matchups played in Evanston.

ESPN, ESPN2 and ESPNU will combine to televise all 14 games of the event, matching top college basketball programs playing for conference supremacy and the Commissioner's Cup. All games will also be available to stream via the ESPN app.

NU is 8-11 in its first 19 Challenge matchups, including a 65-58 home win over Wake Forest in 2017, the last time the Challenge was played at Welsh-Ryan Arena. The Wildcats won four consecutive contests in the event from 2008-11.

WELSH-RYAN ARENA

Welsh-Ryan Arena underwent a complete $110 million renovation following the completion of the 2016-17 season. It will open on Nov. 2, 2018 when the Wildcats play McKendree in exhibition action.

Highlights of the project include:
- New seating throughout the arena, with chair-back seats replacing existing wood bleachers
- Wider, more accessible concourses with improved lighting
- Improved accessibility for the mobility-impaired, with five new elevators replacing the existing one
- New and expanded restrooms as well as the addition of accessible family restrooms
- New concession areas with twice as many point-of-sale stations for increased efficiency, along with new food and drink offerings
- State-of-the-art lighting, audio and video capabilities in the arena
- Premium seating areas and expansion of the club area, which provides space for pre- and post-game events
- Expansion of the building lobby
- New locker rooms for men's basketball, women's basketball and volleyball

McGaw Memorial Hall has been the home of the Wildcats since 1952, when it was built in part to accommodate a meeting of the World Council of Churches at the University. One of the best facilities of its size in the nation when it opened, McGaw Hall played host to the 1956 Final Four, which saw San Francisco win an 83-71 decision over Iowa in the championship game—a contest which drew a crowd of 10,653, still the building's basketball attendance record. McGaw Hall was one of just three different arenas to stage the event from 1953-59.

McGaw Hall was officially dedicated on Jan. 18, 1953, although the first game in it was played Dec. 6, 1952, with Northwestern taking on Western Michigan. The fieldhouse was donated to the University by Foster G. McGaw and friends in memory of his father, the Reverend Francis A. McGaw, a Presbyterian minister who died at his mission in Nairobi, Africa, in 1942.

After its early glory days, the structure to which the Wildcats returned in 1983-84 was not the same one they had left 12 months earlier. A $6.75 million renovation of the building had dramatically altered its interior, with the biggest improvement being the completion of Welsh-Ryan Arena. NU played its home games at Alumni Hall on DePaul University's campus during the 1982-83 season while the renovations were taking place.

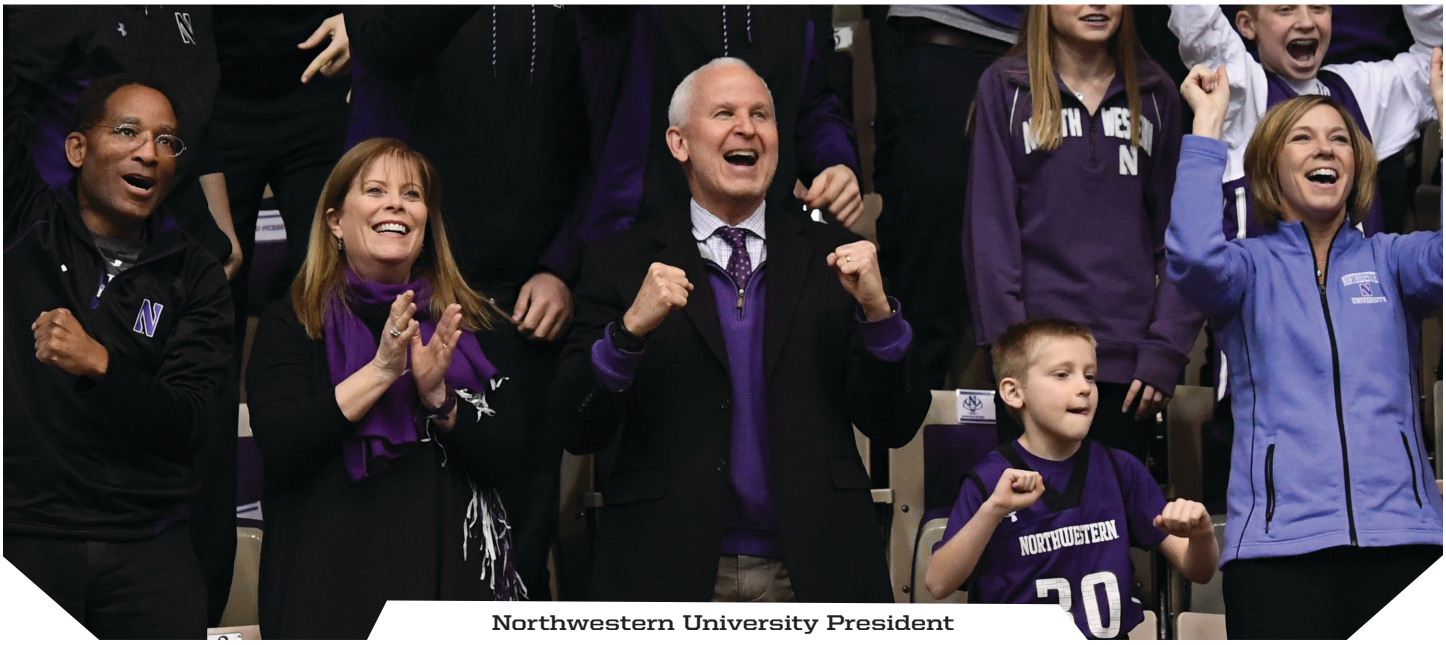

As a part of the $20 million Campaign for Athletic Excellence, various facilities in McGaw Hall were updated and improved. New wood basketball courts were added to the back of McGaw Hall for extra practice and playing time for the men's basketball, women's basketball and volleyball teams.

The arena is named in recognition of a leadership gift to the $21 million Athletic Facilities Campaign by the Patrick G. and Shirley Ryan family of Kenilworth, Ill. Ryan, the recently retired chairman of Northwestern's Board of Trustees, is retired president and chief executive officer of AON Corporation. The name-gift pledge to the Campaign was made by the Ryan family in honor of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick G. Ryan Sr. and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Welsh Sr.

Prior to their move to McGaw Hall, the Wildcats played their home games at Patten Gymnasium from 1910-40. One of the most important events held in the building during its final year was the championship game of the first NCAA tournament on March 27, 1939, when Oregon defeated Ohio State 46-33. Northwestern split its home games between Chicago Stadium and Evanston High School from 1940-52 before McGaw Hall opened for the 1952-53 season. The facility was constructed at a cost of $1.3 million.

The men's and women's basketball programs moved into brand-new locker rooms during the 2007-08 season as part of a $4 million project. The second phase of the efforts was completed in time for the 2008-09 campaign as the coaching staffs moved into their new offices on the second floor of the project.

For the 2014-15 season, high definition quality videoboards were installed at center court as well as behind each of the baskets.

Northwestern University President

MORTON SCHAPIRO

Morton Schapiro began his term as the 16th president of Northwestern University on September 1, 2009. He is a professor of economics in Northwestern's Judd A. and Marjorie Weinberg College of Arts and Sciences and also holds appointments in the J. L. Kellogg School of Management and the School of Education and Social Policy.

President Schapiro is among the nation's leading authorities on the economics of higher education, with particular expertise in the area of college financing and affordability and on trends in educational costs and student aid. He has testified before US Senate and House committees on economic and educational issues and is widely quoted in the national media on those issues.

Previously President Schapiro was president of Williams College from 2000 to 2009. Earlier he had served as a member of the Williams College faculty from 1980 to 1991 as professor of economics and assistant provost. In 1991 he went to the University of Southern California, where he served as chair of the Department of Economics until 1994 and then as dean of the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences until 2000. During his last two years as dean, he also served as the university's vice president for planning. President Schapiro has written more than 100 articles and written or edited nine books. The books include: Cents and Sensibility: What Economics Can Learn from the Humanities (with Gary Saul Morson, Princeton University Press 2017); The Student Aid Game: Meeting Need and Rewarding Talent in American Higher Education (with Michael McPherson, Princeton University Press 1998); Keeping College Affordable: Government and Educational Opportunity (with Michael McPherson, Brookings Institution 1991); plus an edited volume: The Fabulous Future? America and the World in 2040 (with Gary Saul Morson, Northwestern University Press 2015). He has received research grants and contracts from the National Science Foundation, the US Department of Education, the World Bank, the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the Spencer Foundation, the College Board, the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, and other groups to study the economics of higher education and related topics. In 2010 he was elected a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and in 2017 he was elected to the National Academy of Education. He received his bachelor's degree in economics from Hofstra University and his doctorate from the University of Pennsylvania.

President Schapiro and his wife Mimi have three children: Matt, Alissa and Rachel.

Combe Family
Vice President for Athletics and Recreation

DR. JIM PHILLIPS

James J. Phillips became Northwestern's 21st director of intercollegiate athletics and recreation on April 14, 2008, bring ing with him a track record of success at the Division I level and a commitment to the values Northwestern always has maintained in collegiate athletics. Four years into his tenure, Northwestern President Morton Schapiro elevated Phillips to the position of Combe Family Vice President for Athletics & Recreation.

A native of the Portage Park neighborhood on Chicago's northwest side, Phillips has proven to be the perfect fit to lead Northwestern's 19-sport program in the nation's third-largest city. His deep Windy City roots and family orientation are an integral part of a core philosophy of providing student-athletes with a "world-class experience" that enables them to thrive academically, socially and athletically.

He was elected by his peers as the inaugural chair of the NCAA Division I Council. During a two-and-a-half year term, he served as the first-ever sitting athletic director on the NCAA Board of Directors and Board of Governors, and helped lead the most sweeping legislative reform in history for the benefit of student-athletes across the nation. He is currently a mem ber of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee, the group's first Northwestern representative in 50 years. This year he serves on both the Rose Bowl Management Committee and Fiesta Bowl Board of Directors, and is a past president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA).
I
n May, Phillips was honored as the Sports Business Journal Athletic Director of the Year. He also was recognized as the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Under Armour Athletic Director of the Year in FBS in both 2012 and 2016.

During Phillips' decade of leadership, Northwestern student-athletes and the department have reached new heights in the classroom, in the community and in competition. Academically, Wildcats student-athletes surpassed 200 Academic All-Big Ten honorees each of the last eight years, and last year earned 81 prestigious Big Ten Distinguished Scholar honors. The group of more than 500 young men and women combined to post a record GPA of 3.33 during the 2017-18 academic year. The spring of 2018 marked the 36th consecutive quarter in which the Wildcats exceeded a 3.0 average GPA as a group, with the average student-athlete GPA a record 3.36 during the term. During that most recent quarter, 81 percent of student-athletes posted a GPA of 3.0-or-better.

NU scored a 97 percent overall Graduation Success Rate (GSR) in the latest data released by the NCAA, a figure which leads the Big Ten by five percentage points and ranks among the best scores in the nation. The Wildcats have scored 96 percent-or-higher overall in every year that GSR data has been released, finishing in the Top-4 among FBS athletic departments all 13 years. Northwestern football's 99-percent GSR is the top score among all FBS institutions across the nation, and leads the Big Ten by 14 points.

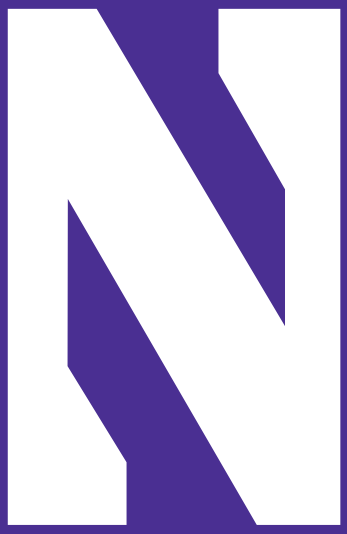

Northwestern continues to be among the nation's leaders in community service, and Wildcats student-athletes totaled more than 5,500 hours in service of more than 100 community organizations in 2017-18. That emphasis on outreach has also included athletic department staff since 2012, during the annual Staff Service Day in early June. In 2012, Phillips guided the institution of the trailblazing 'NU For Life' program, an innovative four-year curriculum dedicated to guiding student-athletes toward their professional passion, connecting them with desirable internship and job opportunities, and preparing them for lifelong success after their playing careers are complete.

In competition, lacrosse, softball, golf, fencing, soccer, tennis, field hockey, swimming, diving and wrestling all have won conference or national championships during Phillips' tenure. Eight of Northwestern's 14 all-time bowl appearances have been earned since 2008, and the football program has posted three 10-win campaigns and three bowl championships over the last six seasons, including back-to-back bowl wins the last two years. Over his decade of leadership, Northwestern student-athletes have piled up 123 All-America honors, 39 Player of the Year awards and more than 2,200 Academic All-Big Ten honors. The Wildcats have also been recognized with 26 Coach of the Year awards, and have won 34 conference championships.

Mirroring the evolution across campus, Athletics & Recreation is in the midst of a facilities transformation, led by unprecedented support from the Wildcats community. This year the department officially dedicated the Walter Athletics Center and Ryan Fieldhouse on Lake Michigan, the new nucleus of the day-to-day student-athlete experience. In November the new Welsh-Ryan Arena, home of basketball, volleyball and wrestling, will debut, followed next spring by the Trienens Performance Center. Over the last five years, Northwestern has opened a 30,000 square-foot expansion of the Henry Crown Sports Pavil ion for recreation, a multi-million dollar sailing center serving the entire community, Miller Park, Martin Stadium, Hutcheson Field, and the renovated Lakeside Field.

Phillips and his wife, Laura, have five children: Luke, Madeline, Meredith, John and James.

NORTHWESTERN STAFF

Sullivan-Ubben Head Coach • Sixth Season

CHRIS COLLINS

Chris Collins is in his sixth season as the head coach at Northwestern. He was named the University's 24th head men's basketball coach on March 27, 2013.

In 2017-18, Collins saw his first Northwestern recruiting class wrap up their collegiate careers. Bryant McIntosh left NU with more than 1,600 points and 700 career assists, becoming one of only three players in Big Ten history to reach both milestones. His 700 career assists are a program record, while ranking seventh in league history. Scottie Lindsey finished his time in Evanston ranking eighth in school history in career three-point field goals and in the top 20 in scoring.

Collins guided the Wildcats to heights never before reached during the 2016-17 season. The unforgettable campaign saw Northwestern accumulate a school-record 24 wins while earning the program's first NCAA tournament berth and victory in school history.

NU captured the nation's attention with its outstanding start to the season. An 18-4 start, including a six-game winning streak in Big Ten Conference play — the program's first since 1933 — saw the team crack the top 25 of the Associated Press poll on Jan. 30, the team's first national ranking in seven years.

Northwestern went on to record 10 wins in league play, its most since the 1932-33 campaign. Five of the victories came on the road, including a 66-59 triumph at No. 7/5 Wisconsin on Feb. 12.

The 'Cats picked up a pair of wins in the Big Ten tournament in Washington D.C., including defeating 25th-ranked Maryland in its own backyard, to give NU its first appearance in the conference tournament semifinal round in school history.

NU was rewarded with an NCAA tournament berth on Selection Sunday and the Wildcats earned a 68-66 victory over Vanderbilt in an opening-round contest in Salt Lake City. Northwestern pushed second-ranked and eventual national runner-up Gonzaga to the limits in the second round before eventually suffering a narrow loss.

The 'Cats placed two individuals on the All-Big Ten teams for the first time since 2012 as Bryant McIntosh was a unanimous second-team selection while Scottie Lindsey was recognized as a third-team pick of the league's coaches. In addition, Vic Law was named to the conference's five-member All-Defensive Team.

Lindsey was one of the Big Ten's most improved players while McIntosh became Northwestern's all-time leader in assists in just his third season of play. McIntosh's average of 5.4 assists per game in conference play made him the first Wildcat in school history to lead the Big Ten in the category (since 1975).

Additionally, Derek Pardon led the Big Ten in field goal percentage in league play (.617) and Nathan Taphorn was the conference leader in 3-point field goal percentage in all games (.470).

Northwestern hung its hat on its defense as the team ranked second in the Big Ten in both opponents field goal percentage (.403) and scoring defense (65.5 ppg), while ranking third in blocked shots (4.9 pg).

Collins' contributions to the program were rewarded by being named one of four national finalists for the Naismith Men's Coach of the Year award.

Following the 2016-17 season, Collins agreed to a contract extension that runs through the 2024-25 campaign.

The 2015-16 season saw the Wildcats establish a then school regular-season record 20 wins, including eight in Big Ten play. Three of the Big Ten wins were by 20 or more points, marking the first time a Northwestern team posted three league wins by 20+ points since the 1943-44 season.

The Wildcats posted a 10-game winning streak—just the second double-figure winning streak all-time at NU—en route to a 13-1 start to the season, matching the school record for the top 14-game opening stretch in school history. The squad also notched a school-record 13-game home winning streak spanning the 2014-15 and 2015-16 seasons.

Northwestern ranked sixth in the nation with a 1.59 assist-to-turnover ratio paced by McIntosh who recorded a school single-season record 213 assists. The total blew away the previous record of 157 set by Tim Doyle in 2006-07. McIntosh earned honorable mention All-Big Ten distinction along with senior Tre Demps.

Collins' second season with the Wildcats saw the young team continue to improve throughout the season. Despite a stretch of heartbreaking losses, Northwestern showed the resilience to bounce back late in the year to post four straight Big Ten victories and five of six.

Despite being without the services of leading returning scorer JerShon Cobb for a good portion of the season, the 'Cats came together during their late-season surge. Three of the team's top six scorers were true freshmen, including McIntosh who set the school freshman record with 150 assists to go along with an average of 11.4 points per game en route to being named to the five-member Big Ten All-Freshman Team.

Demps and Alex Olah both earned honorable mention All-Big Ten recognition. Olah became the school's career leader in blocked shots in just three seasons and ranked third in the Big Ten with seven double-doubles.

In his first season at the helm, Collins led the Wildcats to an impressive string of road victories.

Collins won his debut as a head coach, notching a 72-55 victory over Eastern Illinois Nov. 9. He traversed the 'Cats through a grinding Big Ten schedule, including earning his first conference triumph at home against 23rd-ranked Illinois Jan. 12.

Northwestern's impressive string of road success began Jan. 18 at Indiana before the Wildcats earned a 65-56 win at 14th-ranked Wisconsin. The loss was just the fifth by an unranked Big Ten team in 73 games during Bo Ryan's tenure in Madison. The winning ways continued three days later when the 'Cats notched a one-point win at Minnesota, marking NU's first three-game road winning streak since 1960.

Even though second-leading scorer Cobb was lost to injury late in the season, the Wildcats finished the campaign strong, defeating Purdue on the road to wrap up the regular season before upsetting sixth-seeded Iowa in the opening round of the Big Ten tournament.

The Wildcats were greatly improved on the defensive end under Collins' guidance, holding four of their Big Ten opponents below 30 percent shooting in a game. NU allowed a mere 63.3 points per game in conference play to rank second in the league. Meanwhile, the team's .419 opponents field goal percentage ranked third in the Big Ten.

Collins came to Evanston after serving on the coaching staff at Duke since July 22, 2000. He was promoted to Associate Head Coach in the summer of 2008. During Collins' 13 seasons on the Blue Devils' staff, Duke posted an overall record of 385-77 while recording eight ACC tournament championships, four ACC regular season titles, eight in-season tournament titles and national championships in 2001 and 2010.

Collins worked primarily with backcourt players during his time at Duke and tutored All-Americans Jason Williams, Mike Dunleavy, Chris Duhon, J.J. Redick, Gerald Henderson, DeMarcus Nelson, Jon Scheyer, Nolan Smith and Austin Rivers, in addition to NBA draft picks Daniel Ewing, Kyrie Irving and Kyle Singler.

Collins also served as a court coach and scout for Mike Krzyzewski, assisting the USA Basketball Senior National Team staff with on-court duties as well as game preparation from 2006-12, including during the program's gold-medal performances at the 2008 Beijing Olympics, 2010 FIBA World Championships and 2012 London Olympics.

In his first season as a coach at Duke, the Blue Devils won the 2001 national championship with an 82-72 victory over Arizona. Along the way, Williams earned unanimous first-team All-America and National Player of the Year honors by the NABC. Duhon, a freshman under Collins' tutelage in 2001, was named the ACC Rookie of the Year.

The following year, the Blue Devils posted a 31-4 record, won the ACC tournament for the fourth-consecutive season and were ranked No. 1 in the nation in the final Associated Press poll. Williams earned National Player of the Year honors for the second-consecutive year.

During the 2002-03 season, Duke posted a 26-7 record, a fifth-consecutive ACC tournament championship. One year later, Duke went 31-6 and returned to the Final Four for the second time in Collins' coaching career. Two of his backcourt players, Duhon and Redick, earned All-America and All-ACC recognition.

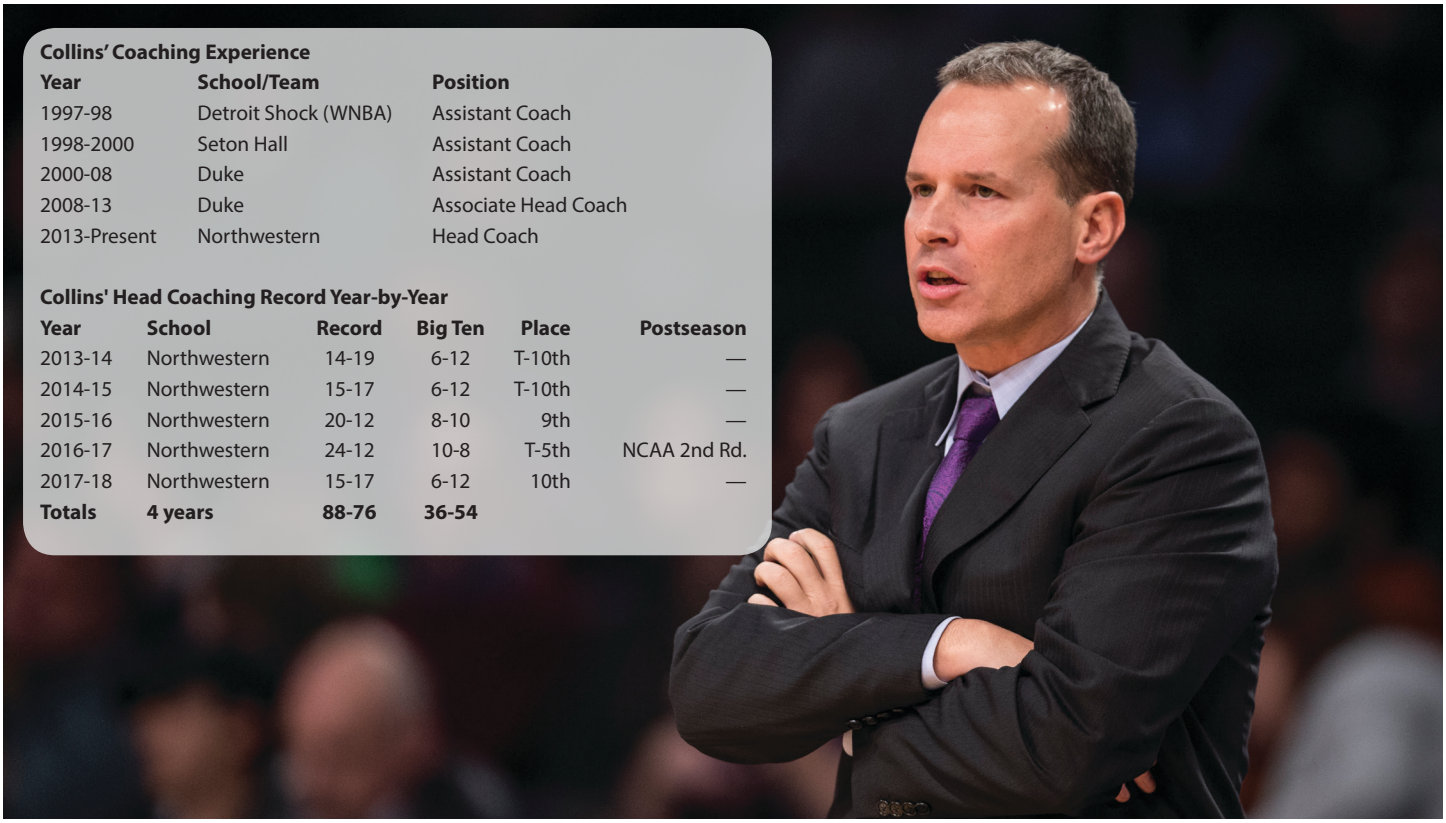

Collins helped the Blue Devils to a 26-7 overall slate that included the ACC tournament crown in 2004-05. Redick was named the National Player of the Year.

In the 2005-06 season, Collins watched his star pupil, Redick, rank second in the NCAA with a scoring average of 26.8 points per game, while setting the Duke and ACC career scoring records and the NCAA career three-point field goals record. He was a consensus National Player of the Year and a unanimous first-team All-American for the 32-4 Blue Devils.

In 2007-08, Collins helped Nelson elevate his game and garner several honors along the way. Nelson was tabbed the ACC Defensive Player of the Year and also earned NABC third-team All-America, first-team All-ACC and ACC All-Defensive team honors. In 2008-09, Collins guided Henderson to All-America and first-team All-ACC honors. Collins also coached Scheyer in his transition to point guard late in the year, which led to an ACC tournament title.

Collins helped lead Duke to its second national championship during his tenure in 2009-10 as the Blue Devils defeated Butler, 61-59, in the NCAA championship game. Collins coached the top-scoring trio in the NCAA as guards Jon Scheyer, Kyle Singler and Nolan Smith combined to score 53.3 points per game. Scheyer was named a second-team All-America, Singler was the NCAA Final Four Most Outstanding Player and Smith was the NCAA Tournament South Region MOP. All three players were also selected All-ACC and to ACC all-tournament teams while leading the Blue Devils to ACC tournament and ACC regular season championships.

The 2010-11 season marked the third-straight 30-win campaign for the Blue Devils. Collins coached a pair of senior all-stars for the Blue Devils, Singler and Smith. Singler earned first-team All-ACC honors, while Smith led the ACC in scoring at 20.6 points per game to claim ACC Player of the Year and first-team All-America honors.

In 2011-12, Collins was integral in the development of a backcourt that featured NABC third-team All-American Austin Rivers. Rivers averaged a team-high 15.5 points per game to become just the third Duke freshman to lead the team in scoring. He also was tabbed as the ACC Rookie of the Year and was just the seventh freshman in league history to earn first-team all-conference honors.

Before returning to his alma mater, Collins served as an assistant coach at Seton Hall for two years with Tommy Amaker. In 1999-2000, Collins was part of a staff that guided the Pirates to a 22-10 record and the Sweet 16 of the NCAA tournament. Prior to Seton Hall, Collins spent the 1997-98 season as an assistant with the WNBA's Detroit Shock.

As a player, Collins played professional basketball in Finland during the 1996-97 season, leading the league in scoring.

While at Duke, Collins was a team captain as a senior and four-year letterman from 1993-96. He ranks 11th among Duke's all-time leaders in three-point field goals (209) and 10th in three-point field goal attempts (539). Collins averaged 9.1 points, 2.0 rebounds and 2.4 assists as a collegian. He earned second-team All-ACC honors as a senior.

CHRIS COLLINS (right) was one of four finalists for the 2017 Naismith Coach of the Year award joining Kansas' Bill Self, Villanova's Jay Wright and eventual winner Mark Few of Gonzaga (not pictured).

Collins was a member of a Duke senior class that had 83 total victories, three NCAA tournament bids, one Final Four appearance, two ACC regular season championships, an ACC tournament title, and two in-season tournament championships (the 1992 Maui Classic and the 1995 Carrs Great Alaska Shootout).

As a senior in 1996, Collins had his most productive season, leading the Blue Devils in three-point field goals (79), three-point percentage (.441), free throws made (83) and attempted (115), assists (132) and steals (37). Collins also ranked second on the team by averaging 16.3 points per game. He was among the ACC leaders in scoring (10th), assists (fourth), field goal percentage (.467, seventh) and free throw percentage (.722, 10th).

Collins is the son of former NBA All-Star, Doug Collins, who is currently a senior advisor for the Chicago Bulls. A native of nearby Northbrook, Illinois, Collins is a 1996 graduate of Duke with a bachelor's degree in sociology.

Collins and his wife, Kim, have two children: Ryan and Kate.

Assistant Coach • Sixth Season

BRIAN JAMES

Brian James is in his sixth season as an assistant coach at Northwestern on Chris Collins' staff.

James served as Collins' coach during his high school career at Glenbrook North where he helped Collins gain McDonald's All-America status as well as the title of Illinois' Mr. Basketball.

James is in charge of working with the Wildcats' post men and played a vital role in developing Alex Olah into one of the top centers in the Big Ten. Olah became Northwestern's all-time leader in blocked shots in only three seasons while finishing with 181 for his career. He also posted 1,161 career points and left NU with 663 rebounds to rank ninth in program history in the category.

With both Olah and fellow veteran big man Joey van Zegeren sidelined due to injury at the beginning of Big Ten play in 2015-16, James groomed freshman Dererk Pardon for a key role on the squad. In just his second career game and first Big Ten game, Pardon posted 28 points and 12 rebounds in a victory at Nebraska under James' tutelage.

Some of Olah's top performances came against the top big men in the Big Ten, including NBA Lottery selections Noah Vonleh of Indiana and Frank Kaminsky of Wisconsin as well as Purdue's A.J. Hammons.

James has helped in the development of Pardon as one of the conference's best big men. Pardon led the Big Ten Conference in 2016-17 with a .617 field goal percentage in league play, becoming the first Northwestern player to do so since Evan Eschmeyer in 1998-99. In all games, Pardon ranked second in the league in field goal percentage (.611), fourth in blocked shots (1.8 pg) and seventh in rebounding (8.0 pg).

James is credited for drawing up "The Play," Nathan Taphorn's length-of-the-court to Dererk Pardon that resulted in a buzzer-beating 67-65 win for Northwestern over Michigan that all but clinched NU's first NCAA tournament berth in program history.

James came to Northwestern after spending three seasons as an assistant coach with the Philadelphia 76ers alongside head coach Doug Collins, Chris Collins' father. He helped the Sixers reach the 2012 NBA Eastern Conference Semifinals.

The Taylorville, Illinois, native has 14 years of NBA coaching experience. Prior to joining the Sixers, James served as an assistant coach with the Milwaukee Bucks for three seasons from 2005-06 through 2007-08. In addition to the Bucks, James had held assistant coaching positions in the NBA with Washington (2001-03), Toronto (1998-2001) and Detroit (1995-98). His stints with the Wizards and Pistons also came as a member of Doug Collins' staff.

The Raptors reached the semifinal round of the Eastern Conference playoffs in 2001 and James helped coach the Eastern Conference squad at the 1997 NBA All-Star Game while on the coaching staff of the Pistons.

During his time in the NBA, James coached such notable players as Michael Jordan, Grant Hill, Vince Carter, Tracy McGrady, Michael Redd, Elton Brand and Andre Iguodala.

He also served as an NBA analyst for ESPN.com and spent two years as an advance scout for the Seattle Supersonics.

His 18 years of high school coaching experience in the state of Illinois were split between four different high schools. In addition to Glenbrook North, James also served head-coaching stints at Romeoville and Wilmington. He compiled a varsity career coaching record of 196-79 (.713) and helped his teams reach the state tournament four times.

A 1977 graduate of Illinois State University with a degree in physical education, James holds a masters degree in educational administration from Northeastern Illinois University.

He has three children: Christopher, Dayna and Brady.

Assistant Coach • Second Season

BILLY DONLON

Billy Donlon joined the Northwestern men's basketball program as an assistant coach in June 2017.

The ties to the Northwestern program run deep for Donlon. His father, Bill, served as an assistant coach for the Wildcats under head coach Bill Foster for seven seasons from 1986-93. Billy Donlon's homecoming reunited him with current NU assistant Brian James who was his high school coach at nearby Glenbrook North High School, the same school attended by head coach Chris Collins.

Donlon's lone season in Ann Arbor saw Michigan post a 26-12 record, including winning four games in four days to capture the Big Ten tournament title. The Wolverines went on to advance to the Sweet 16 round of the NCAA tournament.

Donlon came to Michigan after spending a decade at Wright State, including the final six years as the program's head coach. In those six seasons (2010-16), Donlon compiled a 109-94 record with three 20-plus win seasons and helped the Raiders reach the Horizon League Tournament title game three times (2013, '14, '16). In addition, Donlon's squads tied the program marks for wins with 23 in 2013 and conference wins with 13 in 2016.

After his 2013 squad was picked to finished last in the preseason, Donlon went on to be named the Horizon League's Coach of the Year. He guided the Raiders to a 10-win improvement, tying the school record with 23 wins, the No. 3 seed and a championship game appearance in the Horizon League Tournament as well as a semifinal appearance in the College Basketball Invitational (CBI). He was also named a finalist for the Skip Prosser Man of the Year Award and the Hugh Durham Coach of the Year Award given to the nation's top mid-major coach.

During his tenure, he coached five players to All-Horizon League honors—Vaughn Duggins (2011, 1st), N'Gai Evans (2011, 2nd), Julius Mays (2012, 2nd), Cole Darling (2013, 2nd) and A.J. Pacher (2014, 2nd). In 2012, Mays was also named the Horizon Newcomer of the Year and was a member of the All-Newcomer Team.

Known for his defensive strategies, Wright State's defense ranked as high as 16th nationally in 2013, and he had two players selected as the Horizon League All-Defensive Team—Matt Vest (2014) and Joe Thomasson (2016).

Before his promotion to head coach in 2010, Donlon served as the associate head coach under current Clemson head coach Brad Brownell for four seasons (2007-10). He helped Wright State to four straight 20-plus win seasons, the 2007 Horizon League regular-season and tournament title and an automatic bid to the 2007 NCAA Tournament, where the Raiders lost in the first round to Pittsburgh.

Before joining Wright State, Donlon was an assistant at his alma mater UNC Wilmington for four seasons (2002-06), coaching again under Brownell. Donlon assisted the Seahawks to a pair of NCAA tournament appearances (2003, '06) and two Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) regular-season and tournament titles (2003, '06).

Following his collegiate playing career at UNCW, Donlon began his coaching career as an assistant at American University (1999-2000) before moving on to Saint Peter's for a season (2000-01). Following the 2001 season, Donlon spent a year playing professionally overseas with Irish National Team, as well as stops in France and Germany.

As a collegiate player, Donlon was a star guard at UNC Wilmington for four seasons (1996-99), playing in 118 career games. He finished with 901 points and at the time of his graduation he was the Seahawks all-time assist leader with 456, which currently stands third in UNCW history. He was a member of the Colonial Athletic Association's (CAA) All-Rookie Team in 1996 and led the team in assists as a junior (5.6 apg) and senior (5.2 apg).

Donlon, who earned a history degree in 1999 from UNCW, received one of the CAA's most prestigious honors in his senior year. He was selected as the recipient of the Dean Ehlers Award for Leadership, presented annually to the player who embodies the highest standards of leadership, integrity and sportsmanship through academic and athletic achievements.

Assistant Coach • First Season

EMANUEL DILDY

Emanuel Dildy joined the Northwestern men's basketball program in May of 2018.

A Chicago native, Dildy joins Northwestern after spending the 2017-18 season as an assistant coach at Valparaiso. During his lone season with the Crusaders, Dildy was key in the player development of Tavon Walker and Bakari Evelyn, helping them earn Missouri Valley Conference All-Defensive Team and All-Newcomer Team honors, respectively.

During the 2016-17 season, Dildy coached in the Southeastern Conference as an assistant coach at the University of Missouri. Under Dildy's tutelage, Jordan Barnett developed into one of the SEC's most productive perimeter players, leading the team in scoring with an average of 12.2 points per game.

Prior to arriving at Mizzou, Dildy worked for three seasons (2013-16) as an assistant coach at Loyola Chicago. Dildy's player development and recruiting efforts helped lead Loyola to a College Basketball Invitational title in 2014-15 and later helped Loyola earn an NCAA Final Four appearance during the 2017-18 season.

Aundre Jackson ranked among the national leaders and set a Loyola single-season record for field goal percentage (.669) while also setting the school's career field goal percentage mark (.620). Jackson's production led to 2017 MVC Sixth Man of the Year and MVC All-Newcomer Team accolades.

Donte Ingram blossomed into a 2018 MVC Tournament MVP and Second-Team All-MVC honoree. He is one of only 11 Ramblers to record over 1,200 points and 600 rebounds in a Loyola uniform for his career.

Dildy also help coach guard Milton Doyle develop into Loyola's first player to earn First-Team All-MVC recognition. He finished his career with 1,606 points, which places him eighth on Loyola's all-time scoring chart and he also ranks fifth with 459 assists. Doyle capped his career by becoming the first Rambler since 2007 to earn NABC First-Team All-District recognition.

Dildy spent the 2012-13 season as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Eastern Illinois, as he broke into the Division I coaching ranks. While at EIU, Dildy was instrumental in the player development of Sherman Blanford, who led the team in rebounding and also went on to earn 2012-13 All-Ohio Valley Newcomer Team and 2013-14 Second-Team All-OVC accolades. Dildy also was key in the recruitment of transfer Reggie Smith who was named to the 2013-14 All-Newcomer team and transfer Chris Olivier who became the team's leading scorer and finished his career fifth on EIU's all-time blocked shots list.

Dildy's coaching career started at Kennedy-King College in Chicago, where he served as an assistant coach for two seasons (2008-10) before spending two seasons as head coach (2010-12). As the head coach, Dildy guided the Statesmen to a 35-27 overall record and led the team to an appearance in the NJCAA 2012 Region IV tournament championship game.

Dildy played for two seasons at New Mexico State before transferring to Eastern Illinois, where he was an All-Ohio Valley Conference selection as a senior. After earning his B.A. in Communications from EIU in 2005, Dildy played professionally in Germany for two years and stateside for one season in the International Basketball League before embarking on his coaching career.

#19/20 NU 79, Loyola (Md.) 75
Nov. 10, 2017 • Rosemont, Ill.

Northwestern started its season off on a positive note with a 79-75 win over Loyola (Md.) in the season-opener for both teams at Allstate Arena. Scottie Lindsey finished with a game-high 26 points, while adding a career-high nine rebounds. Bryant McIntosh contributed 16 points, seven assists, four rebounds and a team-high three steals, including one with 16 seconds left to help seal the victory for the 'Cats. The Wildcats played lockdown defense in the first half, holding the Greyhounds to 24 points and just 8-of-30 shooting. Pardon and sophomore Barret Benson each added two blocks and four defensive rebounds in the period, while the 'Cats finished the half with seven total blocks as a team. Northwestern held Loyola without a field goal for almost eight minutes midway through the half, during which the #B1GCats went on a 16-0 run to take the lead. Pardon had six points during the run while Lindsey added 10 points, including back-to-back 3-pointers to give Northwestern a 20-8 lead. The Wildcats finished the half on an 11-3 run, capped off with an emphatic dunk by Lindsey to send Northwestern into the break with a 37-24 lead. Lindsey led all players with 14 points on 50.0-percent shooting in the half. McIntosh kickstarted the Northwestern offense to start the second half, hitting back-to-back jumpers to give him 10 points on the night. However, Loyola rallied back in the second half thanks to a much improved 55.0-percent field goal percentage, including shooting 7-of-8 from behind the arc. In the game's last five minutes, Lindsey finished with seven points, while McIntosh added four points along with a steal. McIntosh hit a pair of free throws in the game's final seconds to secure the victory.

Game 2
#20/20 NU 75, Saint Peter's 66
Nov. 13, 2017 • Rosemont, Ill.

Five Northwestern players scored in double figures and the Wildcats finished with a 34-16 rebounding advantage en route to a 75-66 victory over Saint Peter's at Allstate Arena. Bryant McIntosh led the way with 17 points and matched his career high with seven rebounds. The Wildcats' starting frontcourt of Dererk Pardon and Gavin Skelly added 15 and 14 points, respectively. The Wildcats started out fast thanks to an early 8-0 run. Skelly energized the run with two highlight-reel dunks, including a thunderous alley-oop from Law followed by a put-back slam. Moments later, Lindsey drained a 3-pointer to extend the lead to 11-3 and force Saint Peter's to call a timeout. Skelly led all players at the half with eight points and four rebounds. McIntosh and Pardon each finished the period with seven points. The Wildcats went into halftime with a 32-25 lead thanks to an efficient offensive performance and disciplined defense in the first half. The #B1GCats started the second half red hot from behind the arc. Skelly, Lindsey and Law each hit a triple on NUs first three possessions of the period. A layup by Pardon followed by a McIntosh jumper helped improve the 'Cats' shooting numbers to 5-of-6 to start the half. The jumper opened the lead up to 15 and forced another Peacocks' timeout. Anthony Gaines turned in a strong stretch of play midway through the second half, scoring five consecutive points including his first-career 3-pointer to extend NU's lead to 18 points. Saint Peter's wouldn't go away as an 11-3 run brought them back within 10 points midway throught the second half, but Northwestern shut the door on any further comeback efforts. The Wildcats finished the night shooting 48.9 percent from the field and 23-of-24 from the free throw line.

Game 3
Creighton 92, #20/20 NU 88
Nov. 15, 2017 • Rosemont, Ill.

Vic Law scored a career-high 30 points but No. 20 Northwestern was unable to complete a furious second-half comeback as the Wildcats fell to the Creighton, 92-88, at Allstate Arena as part of the Gavitt Tipoff Games. Bryant McIntosh added 24 points along with a team-high nine assists. Five consecutive baskets for Creighton helped the Bluejays pull ahead with a 22-13 lead, however Northwestern continued to fight offensively to keep the score close. Despite six consecutive field goals by the 'Cats midway through the half, a 10-0 run by Creighton opened up their lead to 15 late in the first half, but the #B1GCats would not go away. The Wildcats went on a 7-2 run to close the first half, holding Creighton without a field goal for the final 2:52 of the half to head into the locker room trailing, 51-43. A 7-0 run to begin to half cut the NU deficit to just one. Northwestern kept its foot on the gas pedal as Law converted on four-point play to give the 'Cats a 56-55 lead with 17:02 remaining. Following a Creighton basket on the ensuing possession, Law stayed hot as he drained a fade-away three to put Northwestern back on top, 59-57. The Bluejays kept answering every NU charge, though. With the 'Cats trailing by seven with under four minutes left, Law scored four straight points to close the deficit to three. A basket by Martin Krampelj and a free throw by Ronnie Harrell Jr. made it a six-point game, but a triple by Scottie Lindsey cut the margin in half. A putback basket by Krampelj extended the guests' lead to five. After Gavin Skelly hit a 3-pointer to cut the Bluejays' lead to 90-88 with 18 seconds remaining, Khyri Thomas converted on two free throws to make the score 92-88 and seal the game for Creighton.

Game 4
#20/20 NU 82, La Salle 74
Nov. 18, 2017 • Uncasville, Conn.

Bryant McIntosh and Scottie Lindsey combined for 41 points to lead Northwestern over La Salle, 82-74, in the 2017 Hall of Fame Tip-Off Tournament at Mohegan Sun Arena. McIntosh scored a team-high 21 points with a 5-of-6 mark behind arc, while Lindsey dropped 20 points to go along with six rebounds. Aaron Falzon made his season debut after missing the majority of the 2016-17 campaign due to injury, scoring 11 points on a trio of 3-pointers and pair of free throws. The contest was knotted at 13 just over eight minutes into the contest when NU took control. An 8-1 run put the 'Cats up by seven, 21-14, with 9:38 remaining before halftime. The advantage was 23-18 with eight minutes remaining, but the Wildcats closed the opening stanza on a 23-6 run to take a convincing 46-24 advantage into halftime. The Wildcats connected on six of their 10 3-point attempts over the opening half with McIntosh (11 first-half points) leading the way by knocking down each of his three triple tries. Northwestern shot a blistering 62.1 percent (18-29) from the field while holding the Explorers to 31.3 percent shooting (10-32) in the opening half. The lead grew to 26 before a 12-point La Salle run got the Explorers within 14 with 16 minutes remaining. Falzon ended the opposing surge by knocking down his second 3-pointer of the game. The Explorers, who connected on 10 of their first 12 field goal attempts to open the second stanza, crept to within eight, 59-51, but Lindsey's third trey pushed the lead back to double digits. B.J. Johnson, who hit each of his first six field goal attempts of the half, led La Salle's charge back as it got within seven, but a 3-pointer by McIntosh and a dunk by Pardon extended the lead back to 12. NU eventually pushed the advantage to 20 with 3:15 remaining before La Salle used a 12-point run to close the game.

Game 5
Texas Tech 85, #20/20 NU 49
Nov. 19, 2017 • Uncasville, Conn.

Northwestern was unable to overcome a rough opening half as the Wildcats dropped the championship game of the Hall of Fame Tip-Off Tournament to Texas Tech, 85-49, at Mohegan Sun Arena. Scottie Lindsey led Northwestern with 20 points and was named to the all-tournament team. Turnovers were the story of the first half as miscues dug the Wildcats into an early deficit. The Red Raiders scored the first nine points of the contest before Lindsey got NU on the board with a 3-pointer. Texas Tech answered with a 14-2 run to push its advantage to 18, 23-5, just beyond the midway point of the opening stanza thanks in large part to nine turnovers by the Wildcats. The deficit was still 18 when Northwestern finally got things going offensively. Behind seven points by Aaron Falzon off the bench and five by Lindsey, Northwestern brought the crowd to life with a 12-4 surge that cut the deficit to 10, 29-19, with five minutes left in the half. Texas Tech responded with 10 straight points, however, to take its largest lead of the half. The lead was 19 following a last-second bucket by Keenan Evans, but Lindsey's heave from three-quarters court went in at the buzzer making it 41-25 at the intermission. Lindsey single-handedly kept NU in contention by scoring 17 of the team's 25 first-half points. Vic Law's 3-pointer right out of the gates to open the second half brought the Wildcats with 13 as Northwestern began to get better looks from the field. However, NU never was able to get hot from the field as it was unable to mount a serious charge to put pressure on the Red Raiders. Bryant McIntosh went 3-for-3 from the free throw line in the contest giving him 17 straight makes from the charity stripe to open the season.

Game 6
NU 81, Sacred Heart 50
Nov. 24, 2017 • Rosemont, Ill.

Scottie Lindsey scored a game-high 19 points and Northwestern put forth a dominant defensive performance in earning an 81-50 win over Sacred Heart at Allstate Arena. Vic Law (15), Dererk Pardon (11) and Gavin Skelly (10) also scored in double figures for Northwestern. The Wildcats started the game on the right foot, tallying the first eight points of the contest in surging out to an early advantage. NU forced five turnovers in just over four minutes to begin the matchup as the lead grew to 13-3, forcing the Pioneers to burn an early timeout. Sacred Heart got things going on the offensive end, trimming Northwestern's lead to four by the second media timeout before a 3-pointer made it a one-point game. The Pioneers were within two, 21-19, when the 'Cats picked it up again on the offensive end. Aaron Falzon and Skelly each hit 3-pointers as part of a 10-2 run that pushed the lead back up to 10, 31-21, with five minutes left in the half. The Wildcats would eventually take a 43-31 lead into halftime. The 'Cats started the second half similar to how they started the first as the hosts scored 16 of the first 22 points in opening up a 59-37 lead. Sacred Heart scored four straight points to make it 59-41, but NU's defense held the visitors scoreless over the next eight minutes and 17 seconds in pulling away. In fact, Northwestern allowed only 10 points over the first 16 minutes of the second stanza while not allowing a field goal for nearly 10 minutes. The Wildcats held Sacred Heart to 33.3 percent shooting in the second half (6-18). Northwestern forced 23 turnovers in the contest, their most in a game in eight seasons.

Game 7
Georgia Tech 52, NU 51
Nov. 28, 2017 • Atlanta, Ga.

Despite a furious second-half comeback, Northwestern was unable to overcome a rough shooting performance as the Wildcats fell to Georgia Tech, 52-51, on a buzzer-beater at McCamish Pavilion. Bryant McIntosh turned in an impressive performance, finishing with a game-high 18 points while adding six rebounds and five assists. Dererk Pardon registered his first double-double of the season as he finished with 10 points and 12 rebounds. Both teams had trouble getting the lid off the basket early, but eight straight points by the Wildcats midway through the first half, highlighted by two field goals from McIntosh and a three-point play by Skelly, helped wipe away a seven-point deficit and give the Wildcats a 10-9 lead early. The pace began to pick up as both teams traded buckets in the last 10 minutes of the half. A floater by McIntosh knotted the score at 22 with 2:34 remaining in the half, however a pair of 3-pointers from the Yellow Jackets' Curtis Haywood II sent Georgia Tech into halftime with a 28-22 lead. Law's jumper to open the second half brought the Wildcats within four, but Georgia Tech kept its foot on the gas pedal and extended the lead to as much as 10 with just under 14 minutes to play in the game. Georgia Tech's lead was 47-37 with eight minutes remaining, but the Wildcats came roaring back, going on an 12-0 run to take the lead with 2:22 remaining in the game. A putback by Pardon gave the Wildcats a 51-50 lead with seven seconds to play, however a Tadric Jackson layup at the buzzer gave the Yellow Jackets a 52-51 victory. Northwestern forced 15 Georgia Tech turnovers, one game after forcing 23 against Sacred Heart.

Game 8
NU 72, Illinois 68 (OT)
Dec. 1, 2017 • Rosemont, Ill.

Northwestern came up with a thrilling, 72-68, overtime victory over in-state rival Illinois in the Big Ten opener for both teams at Allstate Arena. Scottie Lindsey led the scoring efforts for the Wildcats, finishing with a game-high 22 points, while Vic Law chipped in 16 points and seven rebounds. NU trailed, 26-18, with 6:12 remaining in the first half but promptly cut the Illini lead to just one thanks to a 9-2 run. Moments later, after a pair of Illinois free throws, a triple by McIntosh tied the score at 30. However, Illinois entered halftime with a 36-32 lead. The #B1GCats came out blazing hot to start the second half with a 7-0 run to give them a three-point lead, their first lead in over 15 minutes of action. Pardon jumpstarted the run with a layup on the first possession of the half, then moments later Lindsey converted on his first three of the night to give Northwestern a 37-36 lead. Northwestern regained the lead with 3:34 remaining in the game when Lindsey skied over an Illinois defender for a two-handed slam to put the Wildcats on top, 60-59. After Illinois converted on a pair of free throws, Law drained a three on the ensuing possession to give NU a two-point lead. Tied 63-63 in the final minutes, both defenses ramped up their efforts, with no team scoring in the final 2:49 of regulation to send the game into overtime. With the score tied at 68 and just under a minute remaining in overtime, Lindsey converted on a pair of free throws to put the Wildcats on top. Holding a two-point lead, the #B1GCats came up with two defensive stops, highlighted by a block by Pardon with three seconds remaining before Isiah Brown hit two free throws, to seal the game.

Game 9
Purdue 74, NU 69
Dec. 3, 2017 • West Lafayette, Ind.

A strong second-half effort from Dererk Pardon nearly gave Northwestern a win in its first Big Ten road trip of the season, but the Wildcats fell to Purdue, 74-69, at Mackey Arena in a back-and-forth game that featured 13 lead changes. Pardon led Northwestern with a team-high 20 points, 14 of which came in the second half, along with eight rebounds and four assists. Vic Law added 12 points and 10 rebounds to give him his first double-double this season. Northwestern got off to a quick start offensively, converting on three of its first five shots of the game to jump out to a 6-2 lead. Hot shooting by Purdue gave the Boilermakers a double-digit lead midway through the first half. However, the Wildcats clawed their way back into the game as they went on a 14-1 run to take a 27-25 lead. Following the run, Purdue responded with a triple and a pair of free throws to take back the lead, but back-to-back baskets by Gavin Skelly helped tie the score, 33-33, heading into halftime. Purdue got off to a hot start to open the second half, but Northwestern was able to keep the lead close thanks to some stellar play from Pardon, who scored the first eight points of the half for the Wildcats. Pardon continued his second-half takeover as he scored six consecutive points to bring his total to 20 on the night and give the Wildcats a 62-61 lead with 3:32 remaining. Law converted on his third triple of the half and Lindsey hit back-to-back jumpers in the final minutes with the second giving NU a 69-67 advantage with 1:34 remaining. However, despite getting some good looks on the final two possessions of the game, Northwestern could not keep up with Purdue down the stretch as the Boilermakers scored the final seven points of the contest.

Game 10
NU 96, Chicago State 31
Dec. 11, 2017 • Rosemont, Ill.

Northwestern cruised to its largest margin of victory in program history with a 96-31 win over Chicago State at Allstate Arena. The Wildcats were firing on all cylinders both offensively and defensively as they finished with a team-high in points on the season, while holding the Cougars the fewest points scored in a game by an NU opponent since Nov. 22, 2012 (TCU, 31). The 65-point winning margin for the #B1GCats broke a 73-year record. Five Wildcats finished the game scoring in double figures, led by 18 points from Vic Law. The Wildcats jumped out to an early start, scoring the first 15 points of the game, holding Chicago State scoreless for the first 4:40 of the contest. Later on in the half, they held the Cougars scoreless for 6:40 as the 'Cats mounted a 22-0 run to extend their lead to 44-5. Northwestern held Chicago State without a field goal for the final 12:08 of the half and went into the locker room with 55-8 lead. All-in-all, the Wildcats' first half was one of the best performances turned in by any team in the country this season. The eight points scored by Chicago State is tied for fewest points scored by any Division I team in a half this season and is a low by a Northwestern foe in the shot clock era. The 55 points scored by NU marked the most points the Wildcats have scored in a half since they scored the same amount against Sacred Heart in 2015. Northwestern shot a blistering 55.2 percent (16-29) from the field in the first half while holding Chicago State to 10.5 percent shooting (2-19) in the opening half. The Wildcats held the Cougars without a 3-pointer in the half, while converting on 9-of-16 of their own looks from behind the arc. Northwestern did not let up as it outscored the Cougars, 41-23, in the second half. NU forced 25 turnovers, the most by an NU opponent in a game in 10 years.

Game 11
NU 84, Valparaiso 50
Dec. 14, 2017 • Rosemont, Ill.

Vic Law posted 18 points with five 3-pointers as a big first-half run propelled Northwestern to a convincing 84-50 win over Valparaiso at Allstate Arena. Gavin Skelly posted the second double-double of his career as he finished with 12 points along with a game-high 10 rebounds. Coming off a dominant offensive performance earlier in the week, Northwestern carried over that strong play as the team shot a scorching 54.5-percent from three point territory on 12-of-22 shooting. On the defensive end, the Wildcats stifled the Valparaiso all night as the Crusaders turned the ball over 21 times and shot just 38.5-percent (15-of-39) from the field. The Wildcats hit their first six 3-pointers of the game and Law hit his first four threes while scoring 15 of the Wildcats' first 24 points to help the 'Cats jump out to an early lead. Law's four-point play came in the middle of a 14-0 scoring run that Northwestern mounted midway through the first half. The run helped the 'Cats extend their lead to 27-10, during which Northwestern's defense held the Crusaders scoreless for over four minutes and without a field goal for over eight minutes during the stretch. NU eventually took a 43-26 lead to the break. The Wildcats opened up their lead even further to start the second half. The #B1GCats' defense continued to lock down the Crusaders, holding them without a field goal for the first 6:53 of the half. An 11-0 run by the Wildcats during that stretch gave NU a 34-point lead with just over 13 minutes to play. Northwestern did not let up as it outscored the Crusaders, 41-24, in the second half. Lindsey led the Wildcats with eight points in the second half, while first-year Anthony Gaines added six points. NU finished the contest with a 30-4 advantage in points off turnovers.

Game 12
NU 62, DePaul 60
Dec. 16, 2017 • Chicago, Ill.

Scottie Lindsey connected on a career-high seven three pointers and scored a team-high 25 points to lead Northwestern to a 62-60 victory over DePaul at Wintrust Arena. Both teams got off to quick starts offensively, with each side knocking down five of its first eight shots from the field. Lindsey paced the Northwestern offense early on, scoring eight of the first 16 points for the 'Cats. An 8-0 run by DePaul helped the Blue Demons pull ahead, opening their lead up to as many as nine points midway through the first half. However, despite some hot shooting by DePaul, the Wildcats battled back to cut into the lead late in the half. Back-to-back triples from Law narrowed the NU deficit to just three, but DePaul entered halftime with a 33-28 lead. DePaul took a 43-37 lead with 14 minutes remaining in the game, but the #B1GCats battled back with an 8-0 run to regain the lead. Jordan Ash hit a triple to start the run, and Isiah Brown converted on a three in transition to put the Wildcats on top, 44-43. Northwestern also ramped up its defensive efforts as points came at a premium for DePaul midway through the half. The Wildcats held the Blue Demons scoreless for 5:40, which allowed NU to take a 51-47 lead with 7:41 remaining. DePaul cut back into Northwestern's lead, cutting the game to one possession on multiple occasions. However, Lindsey shut the door with two clutch baskets in the game's final minutes, including a deep three pointer--his seventh of the game--to give the Wildcats a 62-57 lead with 55 seconds remaining. Holding a 62-60 lead with five seconds left in the game, the #B1GCats' defense came up with a stop to seal the game and hold on for the win.

Game 13
NU 85, Lewis 48
Dec. 19, 2017 • Rosemont, Ill.

Bryant McIntosh finished with a career-high six 3-pointers in scoring 24 points to go with a game-high seven assists as Northwestern cruised to an 85-48 win over Lewis at Allstate Arena. Gavin Skelly contributed 15 points while shooting a perfect five-of-five from the field. On defense, the Wildcats stifled the Flyers all night as they held Lewis to 31.3 percent shooting (15-of-48). After a slow start in the game's opening minutes, the Wildcats mounted a 9-0 run to take the lead—which they did not relinquish for the rest of the game. Northwestern continued to ramp up its defensive efforts as it held the Flyers without a field goal for over six minutes late in the first half as it continued to build upon its lead. With 1:13 remaining, McIntosh knocked down a triple, his fourth of the half, to put the Wildcats up by 32, their largest lead of the first 20 minutes. The Wildcats eventually took a 49-22 lead into halftime. McIntosh led all players with 16 points and five assists. Scottie Lindsey chipped in with nine points and three rebounds, while Dererk Pardon and Skelly each added eight points. The 'Cats also forced 11 turnovers in the first half and made the most out of those opportunities as they finished the half with 26 points off turnovers. On the other end, the Wildcats moved the ball around as they assisted on 12 of their 16 field goals in the half. Northwestern kept its foot on the gas pedal as it outscored Lewis, 36-26, in the second half. McIntosh finished with eight points in the half, while Skelly chipped in with seven of his own. The Wildcats came into the game forcing an average of 17.9 turnovers per game over the previous seven contests and forced 17 by Lewis. NU finished the game with a 34-5 advantage in points off turnovers. Northwestern assisted on 21 of its 27 field goals with Isiah Brown dishing out a career-high six helpers to go along with the seven by McIntosh.

Game 14
#17/17 Oklahoma 104, NU 78
Dec. 22, 2017 • Norman, Okla.

Dererk Pardon scored a team-high 17 points with nine rebounds but Northwestern was unable to withstand a first-half scoring barrage by No. 17/17 Oklahoma, falling 104-78 at Lloyd Noble Center. The contest got off to a less-than-ideal start for the Wildcats as seven straight points by the hosts over the opening 72 seconds of play caused NU to burn an early timeout. However, a pair of 3-pointers by Jordan Ash and a dunk by Pardon allowed Northwestern to close to within 10-8. The Sooners could not be slowed down from behind the arch, though, as the hosts made each of their first six triples and started 9-of-10 from the field overall. OU's Trae Young, the nation's leading scorer, sparked the host by tallying 12 quick points, including hitting three consecutive 3-pointers, during the outburst. Pardon kept NU within striking distance with 8 points. Oklahoma simply could not be slowed down as the nation's leading scoring team connected on an incredible 14 3-pointers in the opening 20 minutes of play in opening up an insurmountable lead. Pardon paced the Wildcats with 10 first-half points. Northwestern was able to slow down the Sooners' attack in the second half as it out-scored the hosts, 40-36, but the large halftime deficit was to large to make a run. Five Wildcats finished in double figures, including Ash, who scored a career-high 11 points. Pardon's nine rebounds were a game high as he finished one board shy of a double-double. Aaron Falzon chipped in with 12 points for Northwestern, including knocking down four 3-pointers. Young paced Oklahoma with 31 points and 12 assists, adding to his nation's-leading totals in both categories, while Christian James added 19 points.

Game 15
NU 95, Brown 73
Dec. 30, 2017 • Rosemont, Ill.

Dererk Pardon led five Northwestern players in double figures with 18 points as the Wildcats used a strong second-half performance to pull away from Brown for a 95-73 win at Allstate Arena. Trailing by seven early in the second half, NU outscored the Bears 47-18 over the final 15:30 of the game to earn the victory. A three-point play by Anthony Gaines at the 12:46 mark gave NU a 15-10 advantage, the first lead of more than three points for either team through the first seven minutes of the contest. The advantage was four before Aaron Falzon drilled a triple from the top of the key and Gaines followed with a steal and a slam, giving Northwestern its largest lead of the half, 37-28, with just over four minutes remaining before halftime. Brown eventually would close back to within 42-37 at the intermission despite the Wildcats shooting 51.6 percent from the field (16-31). An early second-half surge allowed the Bears to get the lead back as they went up 49-46 just under three minutes into the period. The guests' advantage grew to seven but a dunk by Scottie Lindsey, a corner trey by Jordan Ash and a triple by Gavin Skelly sparked a quick eight-point run that gave NU the lead back, 56-55, with 13:49 left. Overall, a 20-3 run over a span of six and a half minutes pushed Northwestern's lead to 68-58 with nine minutes remaining. A three-point play by Lindsey with 7:54 left gave him 1,000 points for his career, making him the 35th player in school history to reach the milestone. Brown was within seven, 77-70, with five minutes to go, but a jumper by Lindsey and a dunk by Pardon pushed the lead back up to double digits and igniting an 18-3 run to end the game.

Game 16
Nebraska 70, NU 55
Jan. 2, 2018 • Rosemont, Ill.

Dererk Pardon registered a double-double, highlighted by a season-high 15 rebounds, but Northwestern was unable to overcome a tough shooting day, falling to Nebraska, 70-55, at Allstate Arena. Pardon turned in a solid all-around performance, finishing the game with 17 points, 11 offensive rebounds, three assists and three blocks. Aaron Falzon came off the bench to help provide a spark for the Wildcats' offense early in the game, jumpstarting a 11-0 run with a three-pointer followed by a layup. A jumper by Jordan Ash at the 9:33 mark extended Northwestern's lead to 16-10, its largest lead of the half. The #B1GCats' defense made life difficult for Nebraska throughout the first half, holding them to 29.6 percent shooting and forcing seven turnovers. The Wildcats also held the Cornhuskers scoreless for nearly five minutes during the Northwestern run midway through the first half. A 10-2 run by Northwestern to close the half, which included back-to-back threes by Falzon and Lindsey on NU's final two possessions, sent the Wildcats into intermission with a 30-25 lead. Pardon's layup to open the second half gave the Wildcats a seven-point lead, but Northwestern had a difficult time getting shots to fall to start the second half and, as a result, Nebraska was able to take back the lead. The Cornhuskers ramped up their shooting efforts, finishing the half shooting 59.3 percent (16-of-27) from the field, helping to extend their lead to double figures. Northwestern was unable to recover, ultimately falling 70-55. The Wildcats were held to 29.2 percent shooting in the contest despite posting a season-high 22 offensive rebounds.

Game 17
Penn State 78, NU 63
Jan. 5, 2018 • University Park, Pa.

Bryant McIntosh scored a team-high 18 points, but Northwestern was unable to overcome a strong shooting performance by Penn State, falling, 78-63, at the Bryce Jordan Center. Lamar Stevens led the Nittany Lions with 30 points. As a team, Penn State shot 54.5-percent (30-of-55) on the night. The Nittany Lions got off to a hot start offensively, knocking down nine of their first 11 shots to start the game and jump out to a 22-11 lead. Penn State extended its lead to 31-15 with 7:44 remaining in the first half, however the Wildcats went on a 7-0 scoring run to cut their deficit to single digits. NU ramped up its offensive efforts in the final 10 minutes of the half, converting on 9-of-16 shots to close out the opening stanza. The #B1GCats continued to cut away at the lead as they went on a 6-0 in the final two minutes of the half, finishing with McIntosh banking in a triple at the buzzer to send the Wildcats into the break trailing, 41-34. Trailing 45-36 early in the second half, Northwestern went on a 8-2 run to cut its deficit to just three with over 15 minutes remaining in the game. Dererk Pardon jump started the run with a two-handed dunk, and then back-to-back three pointers by McIntosh and Jordan Ash helped cut into the lead even further. Penn State countered the Wildcats' run with a 9-0 streak of their own to extend the lead back to 56-44. However, the Wildcats answered it with back-to-back 3-pointers from Ash and Law to trim the deficit to six. But that would be as close as the Wildcats could get for the rest of the game as Penn State continued its hot shooting en route to a 78-63 victory.

Game 18
NU 83, Minnesota 60
Jan. 10, 2018 • Rosemont, Ill.

Bryant McIntosh broke the school single-game assists record with 16 while adding 11 points for a double-double, as Northwestern rolled to an 83-60 victory over Minnesota at Allstate Arena. McIntosh's assist total best the previous school record of 14 held by Patrick Baldwin. Dererk Pardon added a double-double of his own, posting 13 points and 12 rebounds. Scottie Lindsey finished with a game-high 22 points. With the game tied at 5-5 early, Gavin Skelly came off the bench and provided a spark for the Wildcats as he knocked down a triple and then a jumper soon after to give NU a 10-9 lead. A 16-2 run by the 'Cats extended the lead to 29-14 midway through the first half. Jordan Ash began the run with a 3-pointer before two dunks by Pardon and a layup from McIntosh helped swing the momentum in the #B1GCats' favor. Three-pointers by Lindsey and Vic Law helped Northwestern open up its lead even further. Later in the run, the Wildcats scored 12-unanswered points to build their lead to as many as 24 with 1:16 remaining in the half. Northwestern also ramped up its defensive efforts, holding Minnesota without a field goal for 4:41 midway through the half and then scoreless for a 5:21 stretch later on in the period. Northwestern entered the break holding a 43-21 lead. Lindsey led all scorers with 10 points, while Pardon chipped in with eight points and eight rebounds. Following a Minnesota three to start the second half, the Wildcats showed no signs of slowing down to open up the game as they went on a 9-0 run to extend their lead to 52-24 with 17:10 left in the contest. A run by Minnesota trimmed the 'Cats' lead to as few as 14, but NU promptly answered back with a 6-0 run of its own to extend the gap back to 20 points. Falzon finished with a team-high 13 points in the second half, while Lindsey added 12 of his own.

Game 19
Indiana 66, NU 46
Jan. 14, 2018 • Bloomington, Ind.

Northwestern was unable to overcome a slow start offensively as Indiana defeated the Wildcats, 66-46, at Assembly Hall. Vic Law finished tied for a team-high nine points to go along with seven rebounds and three assists for the Wildcats. Aaron Falzon contributed with eight points and five rebounds, while Dererk Pardon also finished with eight points and a game-high eight rebounds. Northwestern's defense set the tone early, holding the Hoosiers scoreless for almost four minutes to start the game. A run by Indiana gave the Hoosiers a double-digit lead midway through the first half, however an 8-0 counter by the 'Cats helped cut their deficit to two, 13-11, with 7:18 to go in the half. Bryant McIntosh began the run with a triple, his first of the day, and then Law followed it up with a layup and a three-pointer on back-to-back possessions. The pace began to pick up as both teams traded buckets in the final 10 minutes of the half. A three-pointer by Robert Johnson gave Indiana a 24-15 lead, but a dunk by Pardon and a pair of free throws from Falzon sent Northwestern into halftime trailing, 24-19. Pardon led the Wildcats at the half with six points and four rebounds, while Falzon and Law each had five points. Northwestern hung in the game to start the second half, with a three-pointer by Falzon and a dunk by Lindsey each cutting the lead to four on separate occasions early on. However, the Wildcats didn't have an answer for the Hoosiers' hot shooting as IU opened up its lead back up to double digits. Indiana shot an impressive 14-of-23 from the field as a team over the final 20 minutes of play. Isiah Brown provided NU with a spark off the bench, finishing tied for a team-high nine points, all of which came in the second half. Northwestern converted on all nine of its free throw attempts in the contest.

Game 20
#22/22 Ohio State 71, NU 65
Jan. 17, 2018 • Rosemont, Ill.

Northwestern was unable to overcome a strong offensive performance by Ohio State, falling, 71-65, at Allstate Arena. With 7:23 remaining in the game, the Wildcats trailed 62-49 before mounting a 16-6 run in the game's final minutes to give the conference leaders all they could handle. Five Wildcat players finished in double figures, with Vic Law leading the way with 14 points. Micah Potter paced the Buckeyes with 13 points. As a team, Ohio State shot 47.3-percent (26-of-55) on the night. Back-to-back buckets by Gavin Skelly helped the Wildcats take a 12-6 lead with 14:14 remaining in the first half, but Ohio State pushed its way out front to close out the half and entered the locker room with a 33-25 lead. As a team, Northwestern converted on 10-of-27 field goals in the first half, while the Buckeyes shot 12-of-29 from the field. After a slow first half offensively for Dererk Pardon, the junior center picked it up in the second half with two electrifying dunks in the first opening five minutes of the half. However, the Buckeyes caught fire midway through the second half, converting on five straight field goals to open their lead up to 51-36 with 13:00 left in the game. A jumper by Skelly, followed by a McIntosh three-pointer on the ensuing possession, cut the Wildcats' deficit to single digits with 6:37 remaining in the game. Northwestern continued to put pressure on Ohio State, cutting the Buckeyes' lead to as little as three points in the final minute of the game thanks to back-to-back triples from Law and Lindsey, but Ohio State was able to clinch the victory at the free throw line.

Game 21
NU 70, Penn State 61
Jan. 20, 2018 • Rosemont, Ill.

A 15-2 run by Northwestern to close the game helped fuel a thrilling 70-61 home victory over Penn State. The #B1GCats held the Nittany Lions without a field goal during the final 10:37 of the game. The 'Cats defense also forced 14 turnovers during the contest, which they turned into 14 points off turnovers on the other end. Vic Law led NU with 18 points. The Nittany Lions jumped out to an early lead, converting on six of their first eight shots from the field to give them a 15-6 advantage. Northwestern's defense ramped up its efforts midway through the half and held the Nittany Lions scoreless for over four minutes in the first half. A three-pointer by Law with 5:10 left in the first half put the Wildcats on top, 24-23, their first lead of the game. Both teams then proceeded to catch fire from the field as the lead changed eight times during the final five minutes of the half. A jumper by Shep Garner sent Penn State into halftime with a 35-33 lead. Garner led all players with 17 points at the half. With the Wildcats trailing by six with 13 minutes to go in the game, Jordan Ash provided some valuable minutes off the bench, sinking a three-pointer and then converting on a put-back layup minutes later to cut the deficit to 53-51. Three consecutive baskets by Pardon, including back-to-back two-handed dunks underneath the hoop, gave the Wildcats a 61-59 lead with 4:56 to go in the game. The Wildcats weren't finished yet as a three-pointer by Law, followed by a McIntosh jumper on the ensuing possession, extended their lead to seven points with 3:26 remaining in the game. The stretch capped off an 11-0 run for the #B1GCats, during which they held Penn State scoreless for 5:11. Down the stretch, the Wildcats went 4-for-4 from the free throw line to put the game on ice.

Game 22
NU 77, Minnesota 69
Jan. 23, 2018 • Minneapolis, Minn.

Backed by a solid second-half effort and Vic Law's double-double, Northwestern picked up a 77-69 win at Minnesota to complete a season sweep over the Golden Gophers. Law totaled 18 points on the night and a career-high 13 rebounds, while matching his career best in assists with five dimes. Joining Law with a team-high 18 points was Bryant McIntosh. An 11-2 run early in the opening stanza helped the Wildcats jump out to a 13-7 lead. But Minnesota got off to a hot start offensively, knocking down 53.0-percent of their shots in the first half, including 6-of-10, three-pointers to jump ahead of the Wildcats. The #B1GCats continued to cut away at the lead as they held the Golden Gophers without a field goal for the final 2:45 of the first half. A dunk by Law and a jumper by McIntosh sent Northwestern into the break trailing, 40-34. The 'Cats clawed their way back in the second half, converting on 7-of-12 shots in the half's first 10 minutes. With 10:57 remaining, Law converted on a triple to give NU a 56-54 lead, its first lead of the half. Three consecutive baskets by Pardon, including back-to-back two-handed dunks underneath the hoop, gave the Wildcats a 61-59 lead. Following a three from Law, the lead proceeded to go back-and-forth midway through the second half as Pardon converted on a jumper to put NU up, 58-56. Then, with 7:37 remaining, McIntosh knocked down a jumper to give the Wildcats a 60-58 lead. Following the jumper from McIntosh, Northwestern never relinquished the lead. The Wildcats' defense held Minnesota to just five field goals in the final 10 minutes of the half, while NU converted on 7-of-8 field goals during the final 1:15 to ice the game.

Game 23
#24/25 Michigan 58, NU 47
Jan. 29, 2018 • Ann Arbor, Mich.

Playing in its second of three straight games on the road, Northwestern fell to No. 24/25 Michigan, 58-47, at Crisler Center. A fast start gave the Wildcats an early lead, however despite a strong defensive performance throughout the game, the 'Cats were unable to overcome a slew of turnovers and a poor shooting performance from the field. Scottie Lindsey led all players with 15 points. Northwestern wasted no time getting going as it jumped out to a 14-5 lead in the game's first seven minutes. The #B1GCats saw a balanced scoring effort as their first six baskets came from six different players. Leading, 14-9, with 7:50 remaining in the first half, Lindsey continued his hot start by knocking down a corner three-pointer and then, on the ensuing possession, finishing a two-handed slam with authority to extend the 'Cats' lead to 19-11. Michigan closed the half on a 10-0 run to head into the locker room with a 21-19 lead. The Wolverines caught fire from behind the arc to open up the second half, converting on three of their first four looks from deep to open their lead up to as many as eight in the first four minutes of the second half. However, Northwestern battled back with three consecutive baskets from Gavin Skelly, Bryant McIntosh and Vic Law to cap off a 6-0 run and the trim the deficit to 32-30 with 14:33 to go in the half. The Wildcats continued going toe-to-toe with the Wolverines in scoring midway through the half, as back-to-back threes from Lindsey and Aaron Falzon cut the score to 41-38 in favor of Michigan. Trailing by seven with under eight minutes to play, Northwestern's defense was able to string together multiple stops, but struggled to get shots to fall on the other end.

Game 24
NU 60, Wisconsin 52
Feb. 1, 2018 • Madison, Wis.

A red-hot start to the game along with a solid defensive performance helped propel the Northwestern to a 60-52 win over Wisconsin at Kohl Center. Northwestern has now won back-to-back games at the Kohl Center and three of its last four games at Wisconsin's home venue. Dererk Pardon posted a game-high 17 points on a perfect 8-of-8 shooting from the field. Meanwhile, Scottie Lindsey finished with 14 points and Vic Law added nine points along with a team-high 8 rebounds. The #B1GCats got off to a blazing start, converting on six of their first seven shots from the field to jump out to a 14-1 lead before the first media timeout. Northwestern held an early 5-0 lead before proceeding to knock down seven consecutive shots to extend their lead to 18-1 with 14:29 to go in the half. The Wildcats' defense also started off on the right foot as they forced four turnovers in the first four minutes and held the Badgers' without a field goal for the first 6:22 of the game. Wisconsin trimmed Northwestern's lead to eight with 11:23 remaining in the first half, but the 'Cats responded by hitting shots on four consecutive possessions and opening their lead back up to 28-13. Northwestern carried a 37-26 lead into halftime. The scoring slowed down in the second half as both teams had shooting struggles throughout much of the period. As a team, the Badgers shot just 10-of-34 in the half, while the Wildcats cooled off significantly from their first half numbers, shooting 27.8-percent. Wisconsin cut the lead to as few as five points, however, the Wildcats converted on 8-of-8 free throws during the last minute to put the game out of reach.

Game 25
NU 61, #20/20 Michigan 52
Feb. 6, 2018 • Rosemont, Ill.

Northwestern earned a statement win over No. 20 Michigan, 61-52, at Allstate Arena behind a backcourt explosion from Bryant McIntosh and Scottie Lindsey. The two senior guards combined for 43 of the team's 61 points, with McIntosh dropping a season-high 24. Lindsey added 19 points and seven rebounds and sank four 3-pointers. The defense spurred the Wildcats forward in the second half, and held the Wolverines without a field goal from 12:15 to 2:46. The 52-point output on the game was tied for the lowest of the season for Michigan. Michigan came out of the gate strong and jumped out to a 10-1 lead. The 'Cats roared back behind two three pointers from Lindsey to cut it to 19-17. Northwestern kept battling to keep the score close and Lindsey's third three-pointer just before the half made it a three-point game at 32-29. The 'Cats took their first lead of the game came at 35-33 when Vic Law drained a left-wing three late in the shot clock on a crosscourt feed from McIntosh. Dererk Pardon sent two Wolverines flying out of bounds with a pump fake on the next possession down, and finished his easy lay-up. The two plays were part of a 10-2 run that flipped the score to 39-35 in Northwestern's favor. Bryant McIntosh took over the end of the game to put Michigan away, scoring 12 of his 24 points in the last ten minutes. The senior shot 5-of-6 from the field and 2-of-2 from the line to shut down any hope of a Michigan comeback, including scoring on a layup as the shot clock was about to expire with 1:25 remaining, stretching the NU lead from four to six.

Game 26
Maryland 73, NU 57
Feb. 10, 2018 • College Park, Md.

Northwestern's momentum came to a halt against Maryland in a 73-57 defeat at the Xfinity Center. Scottie Lindsey followed up his 19-point outburst against No. 20 Michigan by answering the call again to the tune of a team-high 20 points. Lindsey sank four threes in back-to-back games for the first time in his career. Dererk Pardon added 12 points and eight rebounds. Kevin Huerter led a balanced effort for the Terps with 22 points. Maryland came out of the gate strong at the Xfinity Center, but Northwestern kept pace thanks to threes from Vic Law and Gavin Skelly. Huerter started the game hot, sinking his first four attempts from the field as the Terrapins opened up a 19-8 lead. The Terps had it going from beyond the arc early, knocking down seven of their first ten triples to push the lead to 32-16. The 'Cats pushed back with a 6-0 run from Lindsey to force Mark Turgeon into a timeout. As they did against the Wolverines on Tuesday, the Wildcats kept battling to claw back into the game, this time with a 13-2 run to cut the deficit to 36-29 at the break. Lindsey erupted for 15 points in the first half, including a monster putback slam and a tough fadeaway three late in the shot clock to keep the 'Cats within striking distance. Maryland responded with a 7-0 run of its own to start the second half to make it 43-29. Aaron Falzon threw a counterpunch for Northwestern with two makes from downtown to bring it to 47-39. The 'Cats continued to lurk at an arm's length. Bryant McIntosh threw an alley-oop from 30 feet away for Law to slam home, and the hosts' lead shrunk to eight. The Terrapins finally pulled away down the stretch with 11-1 run that proved to seal the win.

Game 27
Rutgers 67, NU 58 (OT)
Feb. 13, 2018 • Piscataway, N.J.

Northwestern led for nearly the entire game at Rutgers, but the Scarlet Knights hit a late game-tying three-pointer to send the contest into overtime where the Wildcats fell, 67-58. Senior Scottie Lindsey dropped a team-high 19 points for his third straight game with 19-or-more. Junior Dererk Pardon recorded his fourth double-double of the season with 12 points on 6-of-7 shooting and 13 rebounds. Pardon had six of the game's first 10 points and almost ended the first half with a double-double, tallying 10 points and eight rebounds. Aaron Falzon had one of his best halves on the season, posting eight points without a missed field goal. His eight points all came in a 14-4 run in the first half that pushed the Wildcats to a 28-16 lead with just over six minutes in the period. Vic Law nailed a triple with under two minutes to go before Pardon dream-shaked his defender out of the way and hit a lay-up to give the 'Cats an 11-point lead at 33-22. Rutgers started the second frame with a 6-0 run, but Lindsey took over the ballgame after another Pardon bucket, scoring the next nine Northwestern points, all from behind the arc, with the third triple make extending the lead to 44-33. Despite two more layups from Lindsey, Corey Sanders willed his team back within one at 51-50. First-year Anthony Gaines sank a crucial three to extend the lead to 56-50 with under a minute to play but Rutgers sprung back to life once more with six more points from Sanders in the last minute including a game-tying three with six seconds to go. Skelly scored the first two points in overtime, but that would be all the Wildcats mustered. Rutgers closed out the game with the last 11 points and walked away with the win.

Game 28
#2/1 Michigan State 65, NU 60
Feb. 17, 2018 • Rosemont, Ill.

Northwestern rocketed out from the opening whistle against No. 2 Michigan State at Allstate Arena, building a massive first-half lead before the Spartans roared back themselves in the second half to just edge the Wildcats, 65-60. Vic Law finished with a game-high 21 points for NU. The 'Cats got off to a quick start as a jumper from Law made it 17-6 at the 11:50 mark, increasing his total to 10 points in the first eight minutes of action. A 3-pointer in transition made it 20-6 shortly after, and the Spartans were forced to call a timeout. The pause had little effect on the flow of the game, as a 10-2 run by the hosts increased the lead to 22 points. Anthony Gaines hit back-to-back layups before Law and Gavin Skelly each added a triple in the stretch. NU led 49-27 at the intermission on the back of 8-of-13 shooting from behind the arc. The Wildcats shot 60 percent from the floor in the first 20 minutes and recorded assists on 12 of their 18 made field goals. Michigan State came out firing on all cylinders in the second half, ripping off a 19-4 run to cut the lead to seven points with ten minutes remaining. After a Northwestern timeout, the Spartans scored another seven straight to tie the contest at 53 apiece. A layup-and-1 from Jaren Jackson Jr. put MSU ahead for the first time with 5:26 remaining. A dunk from Pardon a minute later gave the 'Cats just their second field goal of the half, as the game was a two-point affair with three minutes to play. After multiple misses on either end, Miles Bridges went to the line with 42 seconds on the clock. The Spartan knocked down both to stretch his team's lead to four points. MSU's lead was six before Law hit a triple with 11. 7 seconds to go, but Bridges hit a pair from the charity stripe to seal it for the Spartans.

Game 29
Maryland 71, NU 64
Feb. 19, 2018 • Rosemont, Ill.

Maryland used a second-half rally to defeat Northwestern 71-64 at Allstate Arena. Scottie Lindsey led the Wildcats in scoring with 15 points. Northwestern started the game on fire from deep, with 3-pointers from Vic Law, Lindsey and Aaron Falzon to open up a 9-2 lead. The Terrapins climbed back and took a lead behind a few inside looks from Michal Cekovsky. Northwestern hung within four thanks to Lindsey's second three of the night and a bucket out of the post from Gaines. Law splashed in his second make from downtown to bring the 'Cats within one at 21-20. Gavin Skelly followed that up with a corner three off of a crosscourt find from Brown to tie the ballgame at 23-23. Brown hit a jumper of his own and then dished the rock once more to Gaines, who nailed his first three to give the 'Cats the lead back. Northwestern closed the half on a 10-2 run as it took a 37-30 lead into halftime. The Wildcats and the Terrapins traded buckets to start the second period as the visitors remained an arm's length away. Dererk Pardon scored six points in the first five minutes and Law canned his third deep ball to make it 47-38. Maryland cut it to within three at 52-49, despite Pardon reaching double figures on the night for the 18th time the season and Lindsey knocking down his third shot from behind the arc. The Terps surged ahead with a 15-2 run and grabbed a late 65-56 lead. Pardon started chipping away with a bruising and-one with under four minutes to play. Brown scored on a floater to make it 65-60 with under two minutes to go, but the Terrapins were able to seal the game from the charity stripe.

Game 30
Wisconsin 70, NU 64
Feb. 22, 2018 • Rosemont, Ill.

Northwestern celebrated seniors Scottie Lindsey, Bryant McIntosh and Gavin Skelly at Allstate Arena, but fell in a close battle against Wisconsin, 70-64. Lindsey and McIntosh each shined on Senior Night, finishing as Northwestern's top scorers on the night. Lindsey tied his season high with 26 points and McIntosh added 18. Lindsey made four of his first five shots and scored 15 of the team's 32 points in the first half. Together, the senior backcourt combined for 44 of the team's 64 points in the contest. Wisconsin used red-hot shooting from beyond the arch early on in jumping out to an 18-7 advantage. Trailing 30-21 with seven minutes remaining in the half, NU went on a 9-1 run to close to within one. Northwestern eventually trailed 38-32 at the half, but opened the second half strong in taking a 43-42 lead. Wisconsin went back out in front by seven before the two teams battled back-and-forth throughout the final minutes with NU repeatedly pulling to within a single possession. With less than 30 second left, however, Brevin Pritzl beat the shot clock buzzer by hitting a three-pointer that increased the visitors' lead to four. Wisconsin connected on two free throws to seal the road win. The Badgers shot 53.3 percent from the field, including connecting on nine of 20 attempts from beyond the arch. Northwestern shot a respectable 48.9 percent but committed 13 turnover which Wisconsin converted into 19 points. Ethan Happ paced UW with 19 points and 7 rebounds while Khalil Iverson added 16 points and Andy Van Vliet chipped in with 14.

Game 31
Iowa 77, NU 70
Feb. 25, 2018 • Iowa City, Iowa

Scottie Lindsey dropped a career-high 32 points to lead Northwestern's comeback effort that came up just short as the Wildcats fell, 77-70, to Iowa in the regular-season finale. Lindsey hit nine 3-pointers, matching a Northwestern record and the most ever by a Wildcat player in a Big Ten game. Sophomore Barret Benson finished with eight points, a tie for his career-high, on a perfect 4-of-4 line from the field, while grabbing 10 rebounds. Despite starting brightly with a Pardon dunk and a jumper from Bryant McIntosh, who started the game but only played seven minutes, Northwestern could not keep pace with the Hawkeyes' potent offense. Lindsey cut the early lead to 12-9 with his first three, but his next two triples would be the only source of offense as the hosts put a 30-15 stronghold on the game. Benson was active in the paint in the rest of the first half with a tip-in and two lay-ups, but Iowa headed to the break up, 45-28. Lindsey picked up in the second frame where he left off and drained two triples early to cut the lead to 50-34. Iowa kept its foot on the gas pedal until Northwestern came back to life late in the ballgame. Isiah Brown drained a 3-pointer to kickoff a 7-0 run that brought the 'Cats within 12. Northwestern hit the Hawkeyes with a barrage of deep balls, including Lindsey's sixth and seventh 3-pointers to force a timeout from Iowa head coach Fran McCaffery at 73-65. Iowa avoided a collapse in the closing moments and held on for the win. Lindsey ended his night with an exclamation point, knocking down his ninth three with five seconds to go to make it 77-70. His outburst helped Northwestern connect on a season-high 13 triples in the contest.

Game 32
March 1, 2018 • New York, N.Y.

Northwestern fought Penn State down to the wire in the Big Ten Tournament at Madison Square Garden, but a trio of late 3-pointers from the Nittany Lions helped eliminate the Wildcats from the tourney, 65-57. Dererk Pardon led Northwestern with 14 points and eight rebounds while Scottie Lindsey had 12 points and eight boards. Starting in the game alongside his fellow center Pardon, Barret Benson had nine rebounds and nine points. Northwestern out-shot Penn State in the contest. The Wildcats were 40.4 percent (21-of-52) from the field, while PSU shot 36.1 percent on 22-of-61 shooting. The difference came behind the arc as Penn State knocked down 13 3-pointers to NU's five. Penn State jumped out to a 16-10 lead, but the Wildcats clamped down on the defensive end and made a run. A 17-4 surge over a nearly nine-minute span gave NU a 27-20 advantage with four minutes remaining in the opening half. However, the Nittany Lions closed the period by scoring 10 of the final 13 points as the teams took a 30-30 tie into the intermission. A quick 9-2 run to open the second half gave Penn State a 39-32 edge, but Northwestern battled back and regained the lead, 46-45, on a jumper by Scottie Lindsey with 11:08 remaining. With the score tied, Bryant McIntosh gave Northwestern its last lead at 54-52 with 4:33 to go with an off-balance jumper from the left baseline, but PSU went on a 13-2 run, sparked by three triples, to take control of the contest. Tony Carr led Penn State with a game-high 25 points, including hitting six 3-pointers.

Overall Record: 1,080-1,496-1 (113 seasons)
Big Ten Record: 514-1,076

Northwestern and Notre Dame played to a 20-20 tie on Dec. 31, 1935.

* Larry Glass coached the first 18 games of 1968-69 before resigning, going 10-8 (2-6 Big Ten). Larry Snyder took over and went 4-2 (all in Big Ten) the remainder of the season.

(F) Records reflect overturned results due to subsequent forfeitures by opposing schools for NCAA violations. See year-by-year results for details.

(D) Home games in 1982-83 were played at DePaul's Alumni Hall due to renovation of McGaw Hall (Welsh-Ryan Arena).

(A) Home games in 2017-18 were played at Allstate Arena in Rosemont, Ill., due to renovation to Welsh-Ryan Arena

HISTORY

ALL-AMERICANS

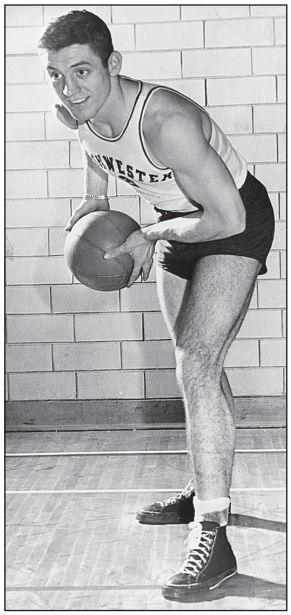

JOE REIFF
CENTER • 1931 & 1933

Joe Reiff's All-America campaigns coincided with the Wildcats' two Big Ten championships. He led the Big Ten in scoring in both 1931 and 1933, sandwiching his titles around the 1932 champ, a Purdue player named John Wooden.

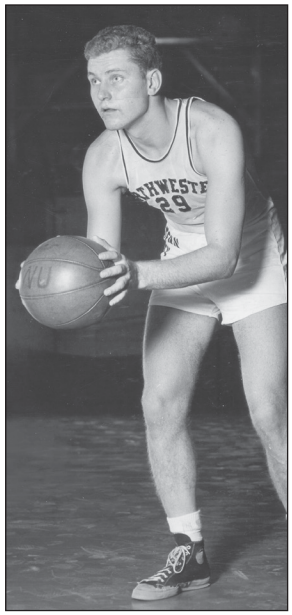

OTTO GRAHAM
FORWARD • 1944

Otto Graham was renowned for his football career, both at Northwestern and professionally. Lesser known, however, was his basketball prowess. Graham remains one of two NU athletes ever to earn All-America honors in two different sports.

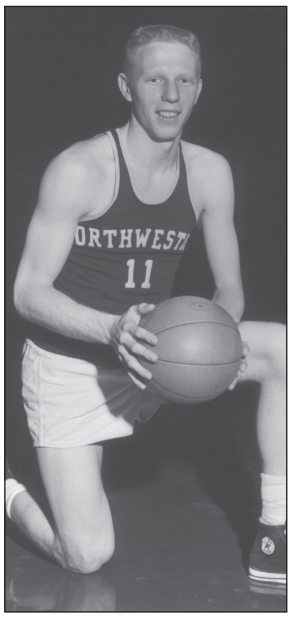

MAX MORRIS
FORWARD • 1946

Max Morris was the first-ever recipient of the Chicago Tribune's Big Ten Player of the Year honor, in 1946. He led the conference in scoring twice (15.8 ppg in 1945, 16.5 ppg in 1946), and joins Otto Graham as NU's only multi-sport All-Americans.

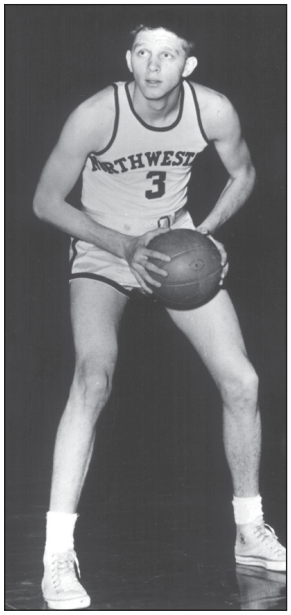

RAY RAGELIS
FORWARD • 1951

Ray Ragelis twice led NU in scoring, including averaging 19.1 points per game as a senior. The first player in school history to tally 1,000 career points, Ragelis was selected by the Rochester Royals in the 2nd round of the 1951 NBA Draft.

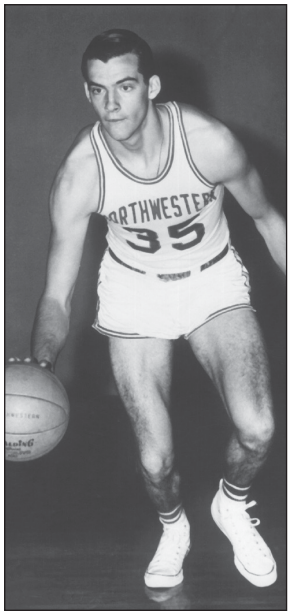

FRANK EHMANN
FORWARD • 1955

Frank Ehmann's scoring average of 23.9 points per game as a senior in 1954-55 is the second-best single-season mark in school history. He was a two-time team MVP and was inducted into Northwestern's Hall of Fame in 1987.

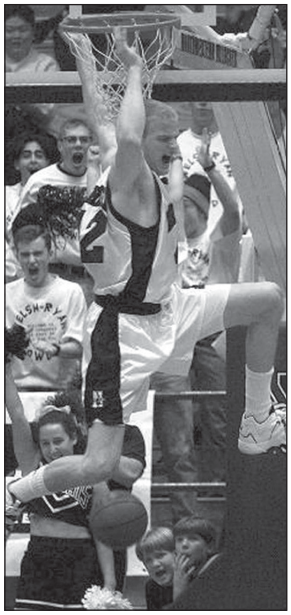

JOE RUKLICK
CENTER • 1958

Joe Ruklick led the 'Cats in both scoring and rebounding all three of his seasons on the varsity. His career scoring average of 19.9 points per game is tops in school history, while his average of 13.9 rebounds per game in 1958 is an NU season mark.

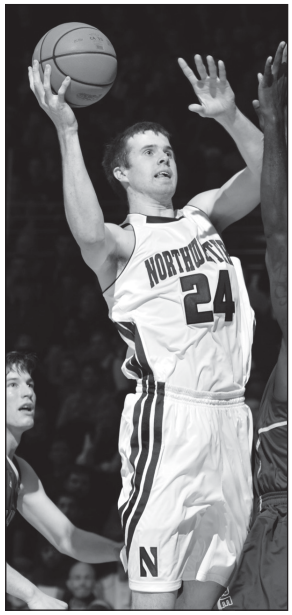

JIM BURNS
GUARD • 1967

Jim Burns enjoyed an outstanding senior season, leading the team with an average of 21.5 points per game. At the time his career ended, Burns was Northwestern's career scoring leader with 1,368 points in three seasons. He currently ranks 13th.

EVAN ESCHMEYER
CENTER • 1999

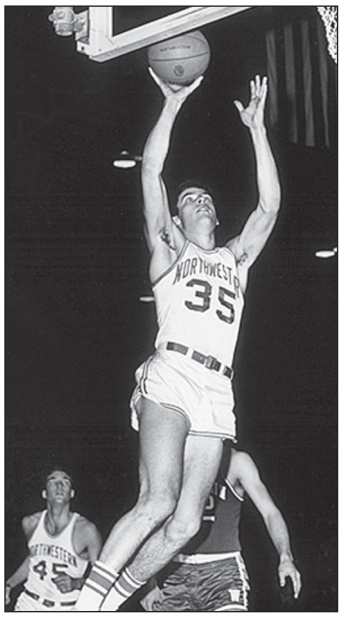

Evan Eschmeyer made the most of his senior campaign, leading the Wildcats in scoring, rebounding and field goal percentage as they advanced to the National Invitation Tournament (NIT). He ranks fourth in school history with 1,805 career points.

JOHN SHURNA
FORWARD • 2012

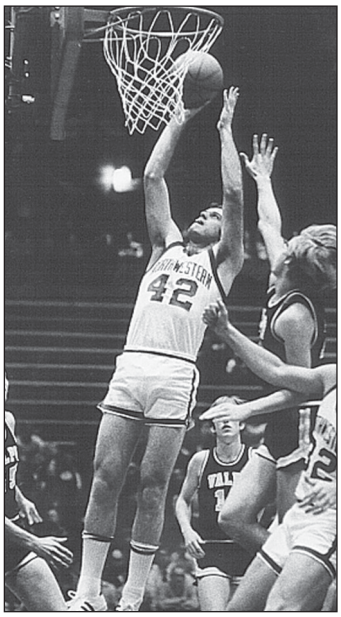

John Shurna graduated as Northwestern's all-time leader in scoring, blocked shots and games played. He was a three-time All-Big Ten selection, led the conference in scoring as a senior and guided the 'Cats to postseason play all four years of his career.

ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICANS

JIM BURNS
FIRST TEAM, 1967

Jim Burns enjoyed a distinguished career at NU, becoming the first Wildcat player to earn Academic All-America and first-team All-Big Ten honors. He led NU in scoring all three years he was on varsity and is 13th all-time in scoring.

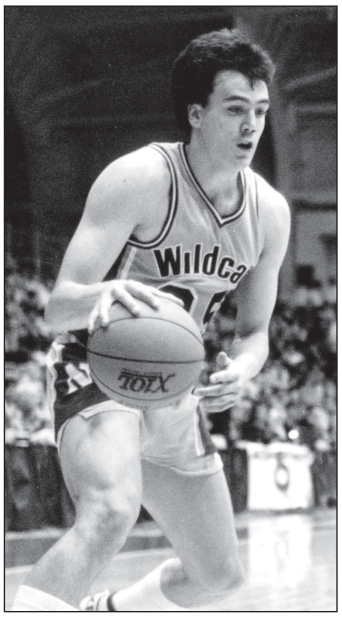

RICK SUND
THIRD TEAM, 1973

Rick Sund was named the team's MVP as a sophomore in 1971 and served as a team captain in 1973. He was twice named an Academic All-Big Ten selection. Sund also played split end on the Northwestern football team.

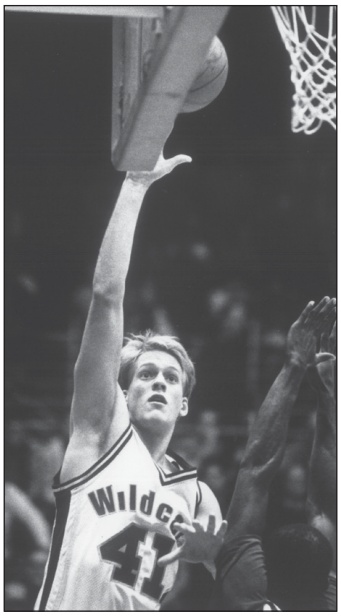

MIKE CAMPBELL
FIRST TEAM, 1980

Mike Campbell led the team in rebounding twice, in 1978 and 1980, and also topped the squad in blocked shots his junior and senior seasons. He is 20th on NU's all-time list with 576 career rebounds.

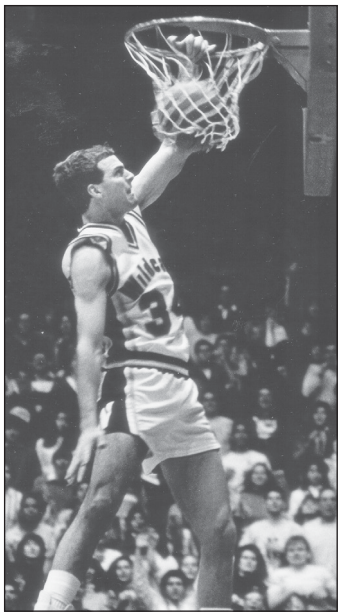

SHON MORRIS
FIRST TEAM, 1987 & 1988
SECOND TEAM, 1986

Shon Morris is NU's only three-time Academic All-American, and as a senior he was also Playboy Magazine's Anson Mount Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

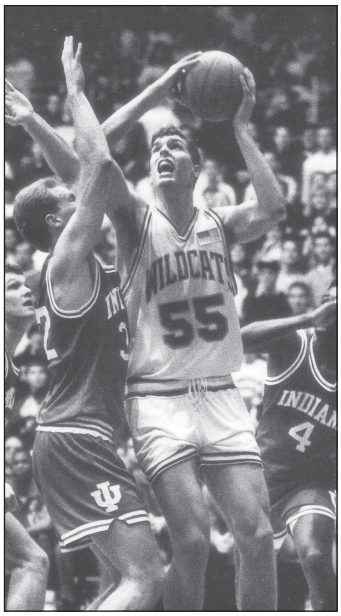

BRIAN SCHWABE
THIRD TEAM, 1989

Brian Schwabe earned a total of three Academic All-Big Ten selections during his career. He ranks fourth all-time at NU in career field goal percentage and scored over 1,000 points. He twice led the team in rebounding and field goal percentage.

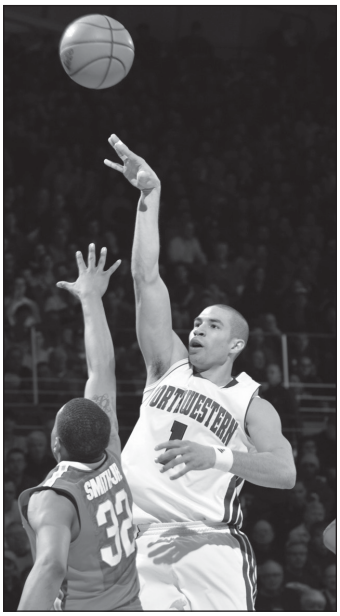

WALKER LAMBIOTTE
THIRD TEAM, 1990

Walker Lambiotte was twice named the Wildcats' team MVP, in 1989 and again in 1990. In 1989, he led the team in scoring, field goal percentage and steals.

KEVIN RANKIN
SECOND TEAM, 1994
THIRD TEAM, 1993

A three-time team MVP and Academic All-Big Ten selection, Kevin Rankin was also a third-team All-Big Ten pick in 1992 and again in 1994. He ranks eighth on NU's all-time scoring list and is second in rebounding.

DREW CRAWFORD
FIRST TEAM, 2014
SECOND TEAM, 2012

Drew Crawford was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Year in 2010 and was a third-team All-Big Ten selection in 2012 and again in 2014. He is the second-leading scorer in school history and is first in games played.

ALL-TIME LETTERWINNERS

The listing of all-time men's basketball lettermen is as complete and accurate as historical records allow and includes only those players which earned a varsity letter; student-managers and trainers are not listed. The information on each student-athlete was compiled from media guides, programs, yearbooks and academic records. Corrections and additions are welcomed if they can be verified. Inquiries should be directed to Northwestern's athletic communications office.

Current players who have previously lettered are listed in bold.
